

STEEDY TRIAL PLANNED FOR DOUMER'S ASSASSIN

ABDUCTORS FREE JOLIET YOUTH AT DEER PARK TODAY

Family Of Gustave Miller Declare No Ransom Was Paid

Joliet, Ill., May 7.—(AP)—Gustav Miller, 22, kidnapped April 29, and held for a reported $50,000 ransom, returned home this morning and his wealthy parents declared not a cent was paid his abductors.

His mother, Mrs. Fannie Miller and his brother, Martin, met him at the Deer Park entrance of the Starved Rock State Park, about 65 miles southwest of Joliet, and drove him home after a note from the abductors notified them where he could be found.

Gustav, who was abducted as he was leaving the home of Miss Katherine Mesrow, his fiancée, two blocks from his home, said he was kept handcuffed in the basement of a house within three or four hours' drive from Joliet, but was very well treated.

Assistance Spurned
His release culminated a relentless search carried on by his father, a wealthy wholesale grocer, independently of the Joliet police, whose pro-offers of assistance he spurned. Mysterious telephone calls came to the Miller home from the haunts of the "42" gang in Chicago and other localities.

Yesterday Martin Miller received an anonymous call from Chicago which was answered by him. He was told not to disclose. There a note awaited him with further instructions to meet his brother at the State Park.

The first ransom demand made by the kidnapers shortly after the abduction was reported to be $50,000. Eventually, it was reported, the kidnapers came down to $10,000, and the family agreed to pay $7,500, but its members were emphatic today that nothing had been paid.

Kept Blindfolded
Gustav said he could not recognize his abductors if he saw them again. They kept him blindfolded, he said, on both occasions—when driving him away from the home of his fiancée and during the three or four hour ride from the basement prison to the State Park.

The young man said that as he left the home of his fiancée the night of April 29, a stranger awaited him in the rear seat of his automobile and under threat of a pistol, compelled him to drive slowly a half a block away. There, his motor shut off and lights extinguished by command, they waited until another man sauntered up to the car and the trip was begun. Where he was taken, young Miller said he did not know and could not guess.

Before Miller was returned home, Chief of Police N. J. Fornago, who also has been investigating, announced last night two youths named Frank Green and Milton Tucker were being questioned by Detroit police concerning the kidnapping because they had their mail delivered on street corners and other unusual places.

PROBE KIDNAPING
Minneapolis, May 7.—(AP)—The kidnapping story of Richard Moreau, University of Minnesota senior prom leader, faced police scrutiny today.

Detectives said they would question him concerning his disappearance Wednesday and what followed until he appeared at the prom in St. Paul last night.

Moreau didn't lead the Grand March, because his father insisted that he go home at once. The prom, outstanding social event of the University, went on without him, and without a Grand March, and lasted until 5 A. M. today.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuel Moreau, his parents, and F. P. Nicol, his grandfather, who offered a $500 reward for apprehension of the persons responsible, demanded a complete investigation by the police and the university.

Moreau asserted four men in an automobile forced him from his car, bandaged his eyes, gave him an anesthetic and took him to a cottage in Wisconsin. He said they freed him last night and he rode a bus to St. Paul.

Dr. Clyde L. King To Settle Price
Chicago, May 7.—(AP)—Dr. Clyde L. King, University of Pennsylvania economist, who is arbitrating the milk price dispute between dairy farmers and city dealers in this area, listened today to further arguments.

Dr. King's decision will be final on whether the current price of $2.01 a hundred pounds of milk will continue to be paid, at the farm or reduced to $1.76, as the dealers ask. It may be a compromise.

He said a decision was still possible for late today, but rapidly growing more improbable. He had hoped to leave for the east this afternoon.

Representatives of the Pure Milk Association, and the Chicago distributors presented their views to the arbitrator until late last night. They consisted mostly of tales of statistics on the factors in the price of milk. Farmers of four states are affected.

33rd Mayor Of Dixon In Power At Office Today

JACK HABECKER

Chosen by the students of the Dixon High school to preside as Mayor of the City of Dixon today—the day on which students of the Civics classes of the high school occupy every office in the municipal government. His Honor will preside at this evening's meeting of the student city council, to which the public is invited. Students of the high school got out today's edition of The Telegraph, also.

Plans Commercial Oceanic Air Trip

New York, May 7.—(AP)—Arthur Bussy, pilot at Floyd Bennett airport, announced today that he soon will embark with four passengers on the first commercial trans-Atlantic airplane flight.

He has been advertising for the passengers in several New York newspapers during the past two days.

The date for the flight, he said, will be set as soon as the passengers are booked. He has already had 20 inquiries.

He plans to fly a tri-motored Ford monoplane from Floyd Bennett Field to London, stopping for fuel at Harer Grace, N. F. All but four of the ten seats in the plane will be removed, he said, to make room for additional fuel tanks. A relief pilot will be carried.

Convicts Plan Gift For Henry C. Hill

Joliet, Ill., May 7.—(AP)—The convicts of the Joliet and Stateville penitentiaries are going to give Warden Henry C. Hill something to remind him of them in the future.

They donated $800 yesterday to be used in the purchase of a gift for the Warden who is leaving the penitentiary July 1 to take charge of the new Federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

DEATH KNELL OF BONUS BILL IS GIVEN APPROVAL

House Committee Reconsiders And Sustains Its Action

BULLETIN

Washington, May 7.—(AP)—A campaign to keep Congress in session until a vote is had on full payment of the bonus was threatened today after the House Ways and Means committee had held to its action of yesterday in voting to report the Patman bill unfavorably.

Representative Patman (Dem., Tex.), and Conner (Dem., Mass.), announced that "henceforth the slogan of bonus sponsors will be 'a vote to adjourn is a vote against the bonus.'"

Patman planned to introduce a resolution seeking a special legislative status for the rejected bonus bills.

This would go to the Rules committee and if approved would make a vote possible, but Representative Rainey, the Democratic leader, said:

"The Rules committee isn't going to approve it."

"The bonus issue is dead this session," Rainey added.

The action of the Ways and Means committee places the bonus question in such a legislative position that a vote would be delayed until so late that it would be virtually impossible for final congressional action to be obtained.

Washington, May 7.—(AP)—The Ways and Means committee today reaffirmed its action in voting a disposition of the $2,000,000,000 cash bonus issue that is expected to block a House vote this session.

The committee met for nearly two hours in executive session at the call of Acting Chairman Crisp, but broke up without rescinding yesterday's vote which will delay use of a discharge petition to force a House vote until June.

Crisp explained that under House rules, on the next succeeding day after a vote is had on a measure, any member voting with the majority has the right to ask reconsideration.

"I called the committee together and explained the situation in detail," Crisp said. "No member who voted in the majority yesterday to make adverse reports to the House on all cash bonus bills made a motion to reconsider. That ended the matter."

The committee's vote yesterday was 15 to 10 for making unfavorable reports to the House. The majority included the entire Republican committee membership and five Democrats.

Conflicting Sentiments
Two conflicting sentiments were involved in today's review: the desire to keep for the House and its leaders credit for killing this $2,000,000,000 expenditure, and the question of fair play involved in using parliamentary tactics to defeat the will of many members.

As reports to the House of the Patman bill, principal bonus-paying plan, and all other similar measures were returned to the House with an unfavorable report.

To revive them a resolution would have to be introduced and taken up by the Rules Committee. It would be pigeonholed there and a discharge petition could not get it out before June 13. The Republican National Convention meets in Chicago June 14 and Congress will not be sitting then, even though it may have to come back later.

A possible alternative was to hold the disappointed bills in committee, permit 145 members to file and sign a petition bringing one or all of them out in about two weeks for a vote. In this case may leaders believed it would pass the House and die on the Senate doorstep.

Lightning Ignites 1,700 Barrels Oil
Lemont, Ill., May 7.—(AP)—Firemen and 250 volunteers won an all-night fight today against a spectacular fire which, started by a lightning bolt, engulfed two huge gasoline storage tanks of the Globe Oil and Refining Company here and threatened 30 others.

The bolt struck one tank of 1,700 barrel capacity during a storm last night and set it aflame with an explosion that rocked the neighborhood. The flames soon spread to second container but were checked with chemicals before getting beyond control.

Chemicals were poured on the remaining tanks until the fire in the first gradually subsided. It continued to smoulder today.

NEIL HOPKINS OF PAW PAW, DEAD FROM LIGHTNING

(Telegraph Special Service)

Paw Paw, May 7.—Neil Hopkins, aged 33, World War veteran, was struck by lightning and instantly killed yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock while plowing with a tractor in a field on the farm of Supervisor Henry Kneisch, three miles south of town. The tractor proceeded to the end of the field where it stopped. Hopkins' body was partially covered with dirt when found, indicating that he had been thrown backward from his seat on the tractor, the gang plow partially covering up the body. One of his arms was badly burned by the bolt. The watch had stopped at 3 o'clock, the hour when a thunder storm passed over this vicinity.

Coroner Frank M. Banker conducted an inquest over the remains at 9 o'clock this morning, the jury rendering a verdict finding that death was due to a stroke of lightning. The deceased is survived by his parents, who reside in Aurora and his wife and a son, Norman, aged 11, of this place. Funeral services will be held here at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Nelson School District Is In Turmoil

The Nelson school district is again in a turmoil as the result of the election held last month when directors were selected. Fred Black has instituted a suit in the county court attacking the election held in District No. 8 in Nelson on April 9, charging irregularities on the part of the judges and clerk and directed principally against Ray Wilson, who was declared elected. The plaintiff seeks a recount and the case has been set for hearing before Judge Leech on June 6.

The plaintiff sets forth that the polling place was not open the hours set forth in the election notice and that four voters were unable to cast their ballots between 6 and 6:30 due to the fact that the polls were not open. Several others, who were advised of the fact that the polls were not open, failed to vote, the petition sets forth. It is also alleged that one vote was cast after the polls were closed and that the judges counted three votes for Ray Wilson, which were missing from the ballot box. Due to these alleged irregularities the petitioner asks a recount.

THE DEPARTMENT OF STREETS AND ALLEYS was more active today than it has been since the depression. Commissioner Nelson Lambert has had a large crew working on Logan Avenue practically all day. The crew has been busy leveling and widening the avenue which has been nothing more than a one lane road until the present time. Incidentally, Commissioner Lambert lives on Logan Avenue.

Downstate Favorites for Presidency

Springfield, Ill., May 7.—(AP)—Downstate Democrats of Illinois favor Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York as their second choice for the presidential nomination. Illinois' favorite is of course United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis.

Although Lewis' name was the only one on the ballot for President, 1,084 downstate Democrats took the trouble of writing "Roosevelt's name. Other Democratic presidential aspirants received the following votes: Alfred E. Smith, 266, and Speaker John N. Garner, 35.

The only Republican on the primary ballot for President was from Senator Joseph Irwin France of Maryland. He received 198,982 votes. But the downstate Republicans went to the pain of writing President Herbert Hoover's name on 1,690 ballots. Other names written in were: Charles Dawes, 1929; Calvin Coolidge, 80; Frank O. Lowden, 79.

Final reports from Cook County were received by the Secretary of State today and tabulations will be completed Monday.

Freeport, Ill., May 7.—(AP)—The government will continue Monday the presentation of its case against John K. Lorenzen, former cashier of the Whiteside County State Bank of Fulton, Ill., charged with forgery, misappropriation and embezzlement of bank funds.

In the evidence which it introduced before the continuance last night, the government attempted to show that Lorenzen took $40,000 illegally.

Mrs. Flora Barker of Memphis, Tenn., against whom the bank held a note for $2,135, testified her signature to the note was a forgery.

Orin Baker of Rock Island, another government witness, testified similarly with respect to two other notes, one for $3,309 and the other for $1,313.

Lorenzen also is charged with making false reports to the Federal Reserve Board with which the Fulton bank was affiliated. He resigned his position as cashier more than a year ago and went to California. Three months later the bank failed.

MRS. STONE IS DEAD
New York, May 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Melville E. Stone, widow of one of the founders of the Associated Press, died at her home today after a long illness. She was 85 years old.

Mrs. Stone was born in Irasburg, Vermont, on Sept. 21, 1846. Before her marriage to the man who for many years was General Manager of the Associated Press, her name was Martha J. MacFarland.

Hunt Cash Means Allegedly Banked

Washington, May 7.—(AP)—Justice Department investigators today began a search of "safety deposit boxes in the Capital in an effort to locate the 100,000 Gaston B. Means is charged with obtaining to bring about the return of the Lindbergh baby.

Meanwhile, the former Department of Justice agent whiled away the time at the District of Columbia jail by reading newspapers and talking with other prisoners. He did not seem worried.

If a federal grand jury indicts him Tuesday for larceny after trust in connection with the receipt of the money from Mrs. Edward B. McLean, wife of the Washington Post publisher, he expects to be released from jail on $100,000 bond. It was understood arrangements had been completed for making bond.

The investigation of deposit boxes was begun after a search of Means' fashionable home in Chevy Chase late yesterday proved fruitless. Officials also are contemplating a search of his brother's home at Concord, N. C.

Senate and House Enlarge The Navy

Washington, May 7.—(AP)—By a wide margin, the Senate yesterday passed the Hale bill to authorize building the American fleet up to its limit strength.

Despite vociferous opposition which condemned both the military gesture and the expenditure eventually involved, the measure was approved 44 to 21. It makes no appropriation but makes possible outlays up to a billion dollars for fighting ships. Its plan is not for immediate construction of every vessel required to reach the maximum allowances, but to provide for a gradual building program to replace obsolescent ships and increase strength over several years.

The House had an even more definite program in the Vinson bill, figured to cost about $600,000,000. It required a start on construction next year with an initial $180,000,000 appropriation. It was pigeonholed and as a result, what reception the House will give the Hale bill remained to be cleared up.

TWO RECORDS OF CONFERENCE ARE BROKEN IN MEET

The Broad Jump, Javelin Marks Fall In Morning Preliminaries

BY DON HILLIKER

Two records fell in the this morning's preliminaries of the North Central meet on the local field. The broad jump and javelin marks were broken and the broad jump tied.

Sterling led the qualifiers by placing 19 men in the finals. Dixon and DeKalb had 13 entrants, Belvidere 9 and Mendota 7. Praetz of Sterling tossed the shot 44 feet 9 inches to a new record. Salkousky of DeKalb heaved the javelin 163 feet 11 inches and Strong of Dixon tied the record in the broad jump on a leap of 20 feet 2 inches.

Miners' Union Is Blamed For Strike

Washington, May 7.—(AP)—"Interference" by the United Mine Workers of America was blamed for the present Ohio coal strike by William P. Belcher, Cleveland, counsel for the Eastern Ohio Coal Operators Association, testifying today before a Senate committee.

"There have been some strikes and violence there so the militia had to be sent in by the Governor to maintain order," said Belcher, who was opposing the Davis-Kelly bill for federal regulation of the bituminous industry.

"The reason we are not working today isn't because we don't want to work and it is not because the men don't want to work, but because crowds of men operating under the United Mine Workers prevent the men from working."

"Wasn't there a wage cut involved in that strike?" asked Representative Kelly (R. Pa.)

"There was a wage cut," replied Belcher, "but was not involved in the strike."

He added that 5,300 of the men "wanted to come back to work" after the cut but were prevented from doing so by the United Mine Workers.

Tinkham Revives Old Incident

Washington, May 7.—(AP)—A nearly two-year-old incident has been revived by Representative Tinkham (R. Mass.) to back a charge of perjury flung against Deets Pickett, research secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals.

At the close of yesterday's House session, with but a handful of members on the floor, uttered the accusation and demand that the Attorney General prosecute Pickett.

On May 27, 1930, said Tinkham, Pickett told the Senate Lobby Committee that the Board had sent no packages from its office that year except by mail or parcel post. Instead, said the representative, he had just obtained photostatic copies of a freight bill showing that on April 9 of that year eleven packages were removed from the Methodist Board office here and were delivered the next day in Baltimore.

He said the only conclusion possible was that this constituted "retroactive 'Incriminating Documents.'"

"Taps" Sounds For Gen. Enoch H. Crowder Today

ENOCH H. CROWDER

Washington, May 7.—(AP)—Major General Enoch H. Crowder, former Ambassador to Cuba, died today at Walter Reed Hospital. He was 73 years old. A few weeks ago he became seriously ill in Cuba and was brought back to this country for treatment. He was taken to the hospital on a stretcher.

The cause of death was given as a general breakdown.

He was considered one of the outstanding legal experts of the Army and at one time served as Judge Advocate General.

Crowder originated the draft system under which 2,000,000 were drawn into the United States Army in the World War.

Judge Moves To Release Mr. Fall

Washington, May 7.—(AP)—The steel doors of the New Mexico state penitentiary probably will not open for Albert B. Fall until Monday.

Expectations that he would be released tomorrow after serving a year and a day sentence for bribery dimmed perceptibly today when the Department of Justice announced a corrected commitment obtained from the District of Columbia Supreme Court would not reach the prison until Monday.

Because of the wording of the original commitment, a change was obtained today to permit the release of the former Secretary of the Interior without paying his $100,000 fine or serving an extra month.

It was requested after Warden Swope of the New Mexico penitentiary announced he would not release Fall tomorrow unless the change was made. The new document was aimed to the prison and is due there by 9 A. M. Monday.

Washington, May 1.—(AP)—Action intended to release Albert B. Fall convicted former Cabinet officer, from the New Mexico state penitentiary where he is serving a year and a day sentence for bribery, was taken today by Justice Jennings Bailey of the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

On petition of the prosecutors who secured Fall's conviction, Justice Bailey ordered Fall's commitment amended so that he former Secretary of the Interior will not have to stay in jail until his $100,000 fine is paid.

FRANCE'S CHIEF
EXECUTIVE DIED
AT EARLY HOUR

should be summoned to elect a new President within 48 hours, but under the present extraordinary circumstances, with the run-off election for members of Parliament to be held tomorrow, the emergency session was postponed.

Consider Successor
Albert Le Brun, president of the Senate, was prominently mentioned as a possible successor of M. Doumer.

He himself was suggested as a candidate for the presidency last year and he followed M. Doumer as president of the Senate when the latter was finally chosen President of the republic.

Morning newspapers which went to press too early to carry accounts of the President's death, printed editorials expressing an opinion that was heard frequently in popular discussions later, that the time had come for France to be less liberal in opening her frontiers to "cranks" who come here to commit murders.

Men and women wept openly in the streets at the word passed around that the venerable President had died during the night. M. Doumer's simple, democratic qualities made him, to the French people, the personification of the highest virtues of family life and ideal citizenship.

Gun Not Concealed
Various eye-witnesses of the shooting yesterday agreed that the assassin, Dr. Paul Gorgulov, made no attempt to conceal his gun.

Messages of sympathy from many governments, including one from President Hoover of the United States, poured in last night. They came from Chancellor Bruening and President Von Hindenburg of Germany, from the Italian Ambassador who was instructed to express his government's official regrets, from Madrid, from London, and from Pope Pius XI at Vatican City, through Monsignor Ottaviani, Papal Under-Secretary of State.

After a willing bombardment of questioning which lasted well into the night and included much rough handling, all police were able to get out of the assassin, Dr. Gorgulov, was that he killed the President so France might declare war on Russia.

"European states seemed favorable to Bolshevism," he finally declared. "So I decided to kill the President and cause France to declare war on Russia. I had no accomplices. I carried another pistol and a vial of poison in my pockets. I planned to kill myself because I knew my life had been finished."

He said he was born 37 years ago at Bravusala, Russia, in the Caucasus, and was trained as a Cosack. He served with the Czar's army on the Austrian front during the World War, he said, and later studied medicine at Prague, Czechoslovakia. It was gathered that he had lived in several European cities, including Paris, until 1931. He was expelled twice from France about that time for practicing medicine without a license.

With his Swiss wife he then went to Monaco where he organized what he called a party of "Russian Fascists and Anti-Monarchists." He advocated what he called "The Green Movement" as a means of saving Russia from the Bolsheviks. This was to secure control of the country for the peasants.

"I am a great Russian patriot."

THE WAY WE BEAR OUR CROSS

OD keep us through these somber days, These days when doubt and fear surmount, When pessimism clouds our gaze, And naught but self seem worth the count.

Master, stretch our vision far Keep Thou our heart serene, Preserve intact our childhood faith, Upon its precepts, trustful lean.

Teach us it matters not the trail the emptiness of earthly loss, But all worthwhile is just the way We bear our cross.

Freshman Party At High School

By Tom Mosher
The Freshman class held their second high school party in the gymnasium, last night. The class advisers had a well arranged program consisting of a tap dance and chorus by Miss Rita Toffee. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing table games and dancing, the music being furnished by Clinton Ives and his orchestra.

Mrs. H. C. Bartholomew will be the guest speaker. Installation of the newly elected Junior officers: President—Elizabeth Ford; Vice-President—Helen Krug; Secretary—Pearl Neff; Treasurer—Marie Kaeder, will feature the evening's program.

SPRINGTIME CONTEST TIME IN HIGH SCHOOL—

Retta Keithley
Spring time means contest time for Old Dixon High. The Commercial contests are now in full swing. The District contest was held at Dixon, April 23. Our teams stepped out with the winning honors. Today, the Sectional Contest is being held at the high school. If the teams show as much improvement today over the District Contest as the teams last year demonstrated, Dixon High will be represented in the State Contest at Champaign, May 13, and 14. The student body should be as interested in these contests as those of sports, public speaking, and agriculture. So let's give three cheers for the Commercial teams.

P. T. A. Of Dixon High School 31-32

Geraldine Graf
The Parent Teachers Association of the Dixon High School is an organization of parents, and teachers, who cooperate in improving the standards of the school. This draws the teachers and the parents closer together and shows the parents what their children are accomplishing in their school work.

The first meeting was held on October 14, which was a scramble supper, held in the high school cafeteria. The speaker of the evening was William M. Robinson. He is the President of the Rural Education of Western State Teachers College, at Kalamazoo, Michigan.

On November 19, (which was set aside as visiting day), was attended by large numbers of friends and parents. This proved to the instructors that the parents are interested in their children's progress.

On January 20, the main speaker was Frank Phillips, who is Director of Standard Teaching, at the Northern Illinois State Teachers College, at DeKalb, Illinois.

The program which was given on February 17, was made up of home people. The first speaker was Prof. J. N. Weiss who represented the teachers, gave a talk on "The School and Citizenship." Mrs. J. Beech, who was representing the parents gave a talk on "The Home and Citizenship."

Two popular students of the Junior Class presented talks for the students. Pauline Conrad representing the girls and Robert Eno representing the boys gave talks on "The Students and Citizenship."

On March 16 a special meeting was held in the Music Room. The parents of the Seniors were urged to attend. Mrs. Lancaster gave instructions to the parents concerning graduation. Special invitations were sent to the mothers who had never attended these meetings.

The debating club held a debate after the talk was given by Mr. Lancaster.

The Parent Teachers meetings are near a close, so it was decided that a special effort would be taken to invite all the fathers and call it, "Father's Night." The speaker of the evening was greatly enjoyed, as he is the first World's Fair speaker that has been in Dixon. He spoke on "The Century of Progress."

The last meeting of the Parent Teachers association is to be held May 18. Mr. Lancaster will be the speaker. He will explain the Curriculum, and instruct the Parents of the Incoming Freshmen.

The officers for the Parent Teachers Association are: President—Mrs. H. C. Warner; Vice President—Mrs. O. F. Gocke; Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. H. A. Lazier; Recording Secretary—Mrs. R. S. Kline.

Treasurer—Mrs. Louis Pitcher. The following people were responsible for the five programs that were given:

Mrs. Willard Thompson, chairman; Mrs. M. L. Davies, Mrs. B. B. Kaufman, Mrs. C. A. Buchner, Mrs. A. H. Lancaster, Mrs. I. B. Potter.

Methodist W. M. S. At Shawger Home

The W. F. M. S. met Thursday, May 5th, at the home of Mrs. Clara Shawger.

The meeting was opened with "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" Mrs. Hart at the piano.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Hartzell. She read Chapter 31 of Proverbs, also an article on, "Woman, Her Mission and the Importance of Her Work in the World."

This was followed by short prayers by several of the ladies. All singing, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

In the business meeting we heard reports from the various departments. Several letters were read asking for help of various kinds.

The "calico box" was passed and the penny collection taken to help on the needs at Franklin Grove. A shower was suggested of bedding, rugs, towels, wash cloths and various furnishings to replace those that are worn out.

A leaflet, "Making the School a Home," was read by Mrs. Clayton. The story of the work and training of the girls in the Parker India school, was interestingly told.

A review of Chapter IV of the Study book was given by Mrs. Gebhardt. "He Trains the Mind" was presented in a comprehensive and interesting manner. The contrast between the schools of heathen lands and those of our Christian land was most startling. Mrs. Gebhardt also read a leaflet, "Upward, Onward, Forward," which showed the need and the trend of the work of the missionaries. Mrs. Redebaugh and Mrs. Crawford Thomas gave a double vocal number, "Sing, Sing on the Wing" and "Wonderful Mother of Mine," in a pleasing and most enjoyable style. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer repeated by all.

Annual Birthday Meeting Ladies Aid Of St. Paul's Church
The annual birthday meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church, held Thursday in the church parlors was well attended, and proved very enjoyable. The meeting opened with song. Mrs. George Smith, the president of the society, gave the scripture reading. Mrs. Henry Raffenberg and Mrs. Otto Beier offered prayers. A short business session was held, followed by the memorial service for deceased members who passed away during the year. Mrs. Frank Young was the only member lost by death. Mrs. Idah Rosbrook read a beautiful tribute to Mrs. Young's memory. Mrs. Young, while her health permitted, was a faithful, loyal member of the society. Mrs. Robert Fulton gave a short history of the life of Florence Nightingale, whose birthday anniversary occurs in May. The program was then given, and was as follows:

Two piano numbers, "Wonderful Mother of Mine" and "Ohio Waltz" were given by Miss Mae Teschen-dorf.

"The Origin and History of Mother's Day"—Mrs. Wm. Teschen-dorf.

"A Mother's Day Story"—Mrs. Geo. Eichenberg.

Vocal solo, "Oh Little Mother of Mine"—Mrs. Earl Aumen, accompanied by Mrs. Austin George.

"How the First American Flag Was Designed"—Mrs. Nettie Cook-ley.

Two poems, "Our Duty to Our Flag" and "Thanksgiving to Our Country"—Mrs. Roy Raffenberg.

A short history of a few of our oldest national songs—Mrs. Robert Fulton.

The program closed with all standing and singing together, "The Star Spangled Banner," and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The committee then served delicious refreshments, and a social hour was much enjoyed.

D. H. S. Carries Off Honors in Commercial Contest
By JANE EARL.
Two heads can think better than one, but when four D. H. S. heads get together on a contest team they carry off the honors. That's just what happened here Saturday in the District Commercial Contest.

The contest was held in shorthand and typing and each event provided strong competition for the home team. However, the long hours spent in tedious practice proved meritorious and they took first place, thus earning the opportunity to participate in the sectional meet here Saturday, May 7.

The entrance from Dixon were: 70-word Shorthand — Dorothy Kehr, Phyllis Schrieber, Margaret Strook and Sophia Miller.

90-word Shorthand—Gladys Ortigies, Eleanor Pittman, Rosemary Hegg and Helen Anderson for individual.

100-word Shorthand—The above team with Jane Earl for individual.

Typing I—Dorothy Kehr, Josephine Bevilacqua, Sophia Miller, Helen Krug.

Typing II—Gladys Ortigies, Retta Keithley, Lanora Sweitzer and Eleanor Pittman.

School Days Are Days of Opportunity

Lillian Covert
"Pa," said little Joe, "I bet I can do something you can't."

"Well, what is it?" demanded his pa.

"Grow," replied the youngster triumphantly.

And that being but childish logic, we think it amusing, but in reality it expresses a deep truth—namely, that each age of our life has its distinct blessings, and growth is one of them. In Joe it is physical growth, one of the first of desired blessings, but then, we wonder if school days aren't expressive of the greatest growth—i. e. mental growth, composed of: observation, expression, appreciation, and perseverance through continuous training and research.

This growth is one of the fundamentals of a normal life, one of the most important requisites of a public life, and one of the most helpful elements of a social life.

School days are those of greatest opportunity allowing the greatest time for enlargement of personal possibilities. They are the most advantageous and carefree days of human existence. The bright vista ahead makes light the youthful traveler's burden of responsibilities. But the one who regretfully bewails his fettered state has only to learn with the first dash of cold, hard experience, the penalty of shirking duties for luxurious complacency and repose.

These days are devoted to rudimentary pursuits, and form a constituent part of joyous youth, as the aged sagely advise. They are, at the same time, the happiest and most formative period of the entire lifetime. Days which the wise will look toward, cherishing each one as it goes, knowing that no matter how rosy another morning may be, it can never, in its joys and woes, be an exact or equivalent duplicate of today.

Young Folks Observe Mother's Night

Last night the Young People's Conference observed Mother's Night. There were 35 mothers at the meeting at 6:45 P. M.

The committee then served delicious refreshments, and a social hour was much enjoyed.

A play was presented entitled, "Wanted—A Real Mother." The characters were: The Girl—Mildred Seiling. The Mother—Leona Ort.

The scene was laid in the living room of the sweet girl graduate's home. The presents began to arrive but were very disappointing.

until, through a letter from a friend the girl discovers what her mother has done for her. Much credit is due to both characters for the realistic manner in which they portrayed their parts.

Sunday night closes the conference contest between the Reds and the Blues. The score at present is: Reds, 975,339 and Blues, 1,171,140 points. The close of the contest does not mean that the young people will have no more meetings. Next Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings there will be training classes for officers and any others who wish to attend.

Tomorrow night the Vesper services will be held at 6:00 P. M.

in the Christian church. Mrs. Ray Harris will speak and Mrs. Cantrell will sing. Don't miss this service, for all who have heard Mrs. Harris speak know that a real treat is in store.

Last, but not least, remember the big banquet to be held in the church basement Monday evening at 7 o'clock. Secretaries and assistants have tickets. Nearly all have been sold to date, so you must hurry if you wish to get one.

The last Business Women's banquet to be held in connection with the women's work of the Grady Cantrell campaign will be held next Wednesday evening at 6:15, at the Christian Church. A good time is being anticipated as the program will run throughout the entire dinner hour. Special music, readings, and the speaker of the evening will offer abundant entertainment.

The charge for the meal is nominal. Tickets may be secured from any one of the following: Mrs. J. E. Reagan, Miss Elizabeth Ford, Mrs. C. R. Street, Miss Florence Shaw, Mrs. J. A. Marshall, Miss Lona Beckingham, Mrs. Ora Bender, Mrs. Eva Burgard and Miss Helen Miller. Every business woman in Dixon is invited to attend.

DEAN BALL TO PLAY AMBOY, SUNDAY NIGHT—Dean Ball will play a violin solo "Adoration" by Borowski, at the Amboy Methodist church, Sunday evening.

Gov. Emmerson Proclaims Sunday, May 8th, as Mother's Day
Springfield, Ill. May 7 —(AP)—Governor Louis L. Emmerson today issued a proclamation designating Sunday, May 8, as Mother's Day. The governor declared that the country's greatest source of strength in time of trouble rests in the unyielding courage of those women who guide the welfare of the nation through the homes.

His proclamation follows: "By Congressional and Presidential action the second Sunday in May has been officially designated as Mother's Day throughout the nation, and has come, by practice, to be a day set aside for the expression of our love and reverence for the Mothers of Our Country."

"We can have no greater privilege than to join in a nation-wide appreciation of the sacrifice, the love, the inspiration and the leadership which the Mothers of Our Country have at all times exhibited."

"The greatest source of the Country's strength, in times of emergency, rests in the fortitude and unyielding courage of those women who guide the welfare of the nation's homes; "Now, Therefore, I, Louis L. Emmerson, Governor of the State of Illinois, in accordance with the time honored custom, do hereby designate Sunday, the eighth day of May as

MOTHER'S DAY
"And, I hereby request that the National ensign be displayed on all public and private buildings, that appropriate exercises be held in the churches, Sunday schools, and at other public gatherings, and that throughout the state, special efforts be made to lessen the burdens of all Mothers, whose cares have been increased through adversities."

Charming Dixon Girl Weds Today
This morning at the manse to the First Presbyterian church in this city, Miss Frances H. Forsyth, daughter of Mrs. Helene Forsyth of this city, and Howard Raymond Fisher of Henry, Ill., son of Mrs. C. A. Fisher were quietly united in marriage. The pastor of the church, Dr. J. Franklin Young, officiated at the ceremony. The young people were accompanied by Mrs. Forsyth and Miss Seville Palmer.

The bride and bridegroom are both students at the Illinois Normal University, at Normal, Ill., where they have hosts of friends congratulations on the happy event.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher motored here from Normal last evening and have returned to continue their studies. The bride is the daughter of one of Dixon's oldest and most highly esteemed families, and is a charming and brilliant girl. Her husband is a genial and progressive young man and Dixon friends unite in wishing them every happiness.

Delightful Bridge Luncheon Friday
Lillian Covert
Friday, Mrs. L. G. McDonald was again hostess at a delightful bridge luncheon, there being guests for two tables. The flowers, yellow roses and daffodils lent a harmonious tone to the charmingly appointed table. The favors were awarded to Mrs. Geo. Shaw, Mrs. Rowland, and Mrs. Campbell, 1st, 2nd and consolation, respectively.

SOCIAL CIRCLE TO MEET IN STERLING—The Prairieville Social Circle will meet Wednesday, the eleventh, with Mrs. Nelson Powell of Sterling. All are requested to bring garden seeds or seed potatoes for the needy.

BIRTHDAY PARTY AT DAVIES' HOME—Miss Margaret Davies entertained her Girl Scout Patrol Wednesday evening. A birthday dinner was much enjoyed honoring Margaret, and was followed by games in the spacious back-yard.

YOUTH AND GOVERNMENT.

By Willard Thompson.

Old Jim Mothball has probably been uneasy and most likely done a good bit of ranting and raving today. His reasons, of course, are: that the people are becoming absolutely silly, "the idea of allowing a gang of incompetent wild, modern youths to dictate to the citizens and handle the government themselves." He feels that the people have gone a bit crazy, or at least, become very radical.

His chief argument is that these "young scamps" are inexperienced and too young. After all what do years mean? Really only one thing—experience. Under the present system of education a senior in high school knows practically every fact, both major and trivial in nature, of city government. But we grant "Old Jim" one point—they need actual experience in putting their knowledge to practical use.

If they need experience, how can they get it without actually doing the thing themselves? The answer is simple, they can't. Many people continue along such narrow lines of reasoning that they don't believe in giving a person a position if he has no experience. If every one reasoned this way it would be a matter of only a few years until there would be no more experienced people.

Many of the older citizen of Dixon realized this; our teachers realized it, and the officials of our city realized it. For this reason we have been given a chance that our fore-fathers were never allowed. We are being allowed to put our knowledge of the commission form of government into actual practice. This project is a great step in manufacturing future citizens. It will put us in an advanced position to that of the last generation at the time they finished high school.

It is only natural that one would dislike being operated upon by a doctor with no actual experience, or having an inexperienced broker invest one's money. So it is with government. People are beginning to realize that voters don't always show the best of judgment in choosing officials; they are beginning, as well, to realize how important it is to put honest and capable men in office. We students not only know these things but we are learning how to think for ourselves and vote intelligently.

Civilization is taking steps in seven league—such examples as this Civics project prove this conclusively. It is a wonderful opportunity for us and we fully realize it. There are steps probably yet to be taken in such fields and we feel that in return for this opportunity from the citizens of Dixon, we can best repay them by putting this knowledge to its best advantage and being broad-minded in planning for posterity.

TO THE TAXPAYERS.

By Dwight Thompson.

You folks of Dixon who are supporting our High School certainly ought to be thanked. I am quite positive that every student who is gaining an education in this wonderful building realizes what a privilege it is to carry on their work here. I honestly believe that there could not be a more perfect place of learning in a town of this size than Dixon's High School.

Many of you people do not realize the importance of such surroundings to study in. We have a building that is kept at one temperature the year around in order to insure comfort for the students. We have equipment that would excel many long established businesses of this city. Every room, and every seat in these rooms, was planned to afford perfect surroundings and perfect lighting for all activities. Every period and every activity has been so arranged as to give the best possible results to each and every student. All of these things were planned and studied for the sole purpose of giving ease and satisfaction to the student.

Now, the least that we can do in return is have each and every one of you come to your school and see what you have done for your future men and women. All visitors are treated with the utmost courtesy during their inspection of our school, but what we want is to have the owners—and they are the taxpayers—come and see what has been accomplished with the money spent for education.

There is always time to show you through your school and no matter when you come you may receive a thorough tour of the building and the class rooms where your children are learning to become bigger and better citizens of the United States.

FUTURE CITIZENS AND EDUCATION.

By Jamesia Stewart.

This question is often asked, "What will this younger generation be in politics? It is answered quite often, "Better Crooks." Is this true? Will the students, who are to be citizens of tomorrow not be able to think more intelligently for themselves? Will they be "Yes! Yes! Citizens"? Will education yield more "professional crooks"? Will education give the world intelligent citizens, or will the students, or the future citizens be captured by the flowing words and vague promises of the orator?

What is Education? Is it bringing up of one in school? Yes, it is and more. Much more! It is instruction and breeding. Instruction and breeding are to education as parts to a whole; INSTRUCTION respects the communication of knowledge, and BREEDING respects the manners or outward conduct, but education comprehends not only both of these, but the formation of the mind, and establishment of principles; good instruction makes one wise; good breeding makes one more polished and agreeable. Because of that education is fruitful.

Because of education, the future citizens will think more intelligently on a question. They will inquire to themselves, and discuss with others the importance of a question. They will judge the ability and the efficiency of the person whom they shall elect to office, not his long flowery oration and vague promises, nor his name that he has inherited from his parents, and ancestors. Through education the future citizens eyes are open, and they will not be a "Yes! Yes! Citizen." Because of this the crooks will find that they will not be able to lay traps before the citizen and therefore the crooks will have to give up their game and become citizens.

YOUNG AMERICANS.

By James Bales.

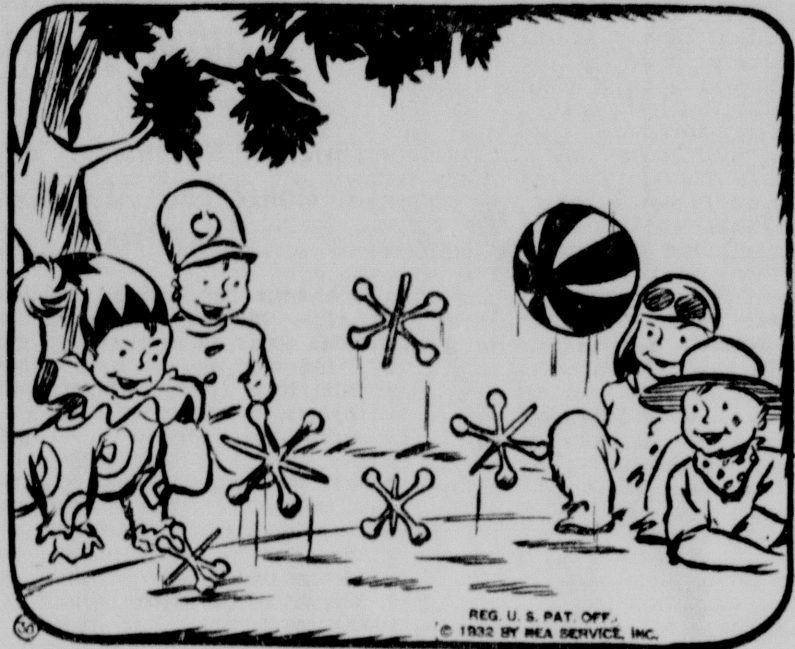

Everyone should know how to vote, but do the people fully realize the value of voting? It is valuable because it enables the public to select, the men it really wants, to carry on the government of the nation, state and city.

We are especially interested, at the present city government. The students of Dixon High School, through the valuable aid of the City Council have been enabled to come in contact with all the phases of city government and voting.

We, the students of Dixon High School wish to extend our hearty thanks, to all those who have aided us in this educational project. As Young American students we realize that now, after this fine experience in learning how to carry out political campaigns and voting successfully, we will soon be able, with extraordinary ability, to select the best men to head us in the controlling of our country.

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN PICTURES BY JOE KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

As Old Man Play ran through the trees, the Tinymites trailed along at ease. "He seems a fine old fellow," whispered one Duncy, with a grin.

"The Water King, who sent us here said there'd be nothing we need fear. He said that we'd find play. I wonder how soon it will begin?"

"Oh, don't be too impatient, son," snapped Duncy. "We will have some fun, if we just do as we are told. I am fond of Old Man Play."

"The way he jumps around makes me feel sure he's happy as can be. That's why I'm glad to follow him upon his way."

All of a sudden Old Man Play jumped to a stump and shouted, "Hey! Sit down a minute, in the grass. I want to talk to you little lads."

The Tinymites promptly squatted down in shady spots, upon the ground. The old man then continued, "I will tell you what I'll do."

"Of course, you know, when summer is here, we tots are looking for good cheer. They love to spin their little tops and bounce their balls and jacks."

"I am the man who makes the things. Think of the fun my good work brings. Now, please believe me, Tinymites, I'm telling you facts."

Then Windy said, Please let us see some of the things you're making. Gee! That surely would be a real treat. "All right," replied the man.

"I have some little jacks nearby. I will make them all jump 'way up high! I am training them to do that now. They will jump the best they can."

They shortly reached a playhouse where the man said, "Wait here in the air." He walked into his big house and then came right out, with a yell. "Here are my jacks. They will jump around." And he was right, the Tinymites found. The jacks began to jump and Duncy shouted, "My, that's swell!"

(The Tinymites see some spinning tops in the next story.)

Daily Health Talk

CARBOHYDRATES

Carbohydrates, sugars or starches, are the principal energy sources of the human body. They ordinarily make up the largest percentage of the caloric content of the average diet.

In the American diet it is maintained by our leading dietitians, there is an excess of carbohydrates and an inadequate amount of the protective foods, namely, milk and milk products, eggs, green vegetables and fruits.

This situation appears to have grown worse rather than better. "Thus it is reported that sugar, a refined carbohydrate and only one of the various carbohydrates included in the average diet, is being consumed in ever increasing quantities."

While sugar is a useful article of diet, it does not contain a single known vitamin, nor any of the essential mineral salts.

Moreover, if it is included in the diet in excessive quantities, it displaces other more important items or leads to excess the caloric content of the day's food intake. This in time may lead to nutritional deficiencies and to obesity, since sugar can be converted in the body into fat.

The average person requires from 2,000 to 2,500 calories per day. Those engaged in hard physical labor, may require as many as 3,500 calories per day.

In the dietary of the sedentary or physically inactive worker, the carbohydrate portion of the diet should be smaller than what it would be in the case of a laborer. The active person may be more liberal with his carbohydrate consumption.

As a general rule the average person will do well to increase his intake of milk and milk products, eggs, green leafy vegetables and fruits.

TODAY'S "MAYOR" TELLS METHODS OF CAMPAIGNING

Felt His Future To Be Black When He Filed His Petition

By Jack Habegger

Last week I was elected student mayor for Saturday, May 7, 1932. This and the "all gone" feeling my school had had for about two weeks, in fact, ever since I had decided to run.

I believe that my future as a "mayor for a day" never looked as black as it did right after the filing of my petition. I had no campaign managers and I didn't know who to get. The only thing I did have were some half-formed ideas in the back of my head about advertising.

I asked some students to paint and print signs and cards and had some others organizing the parade. I worked on my platform and got my campaign managers organized.

About two days before the primaries the outlook grew brighter, so I began planning for the final campaign.

I was very surprised to learn that Lois Steacy was to run against me in the finals, but I was both glad and frightened at the same time. Miss Steacy has broken the ice for girls running for office in future campaigns.

She has also proven herself a very, very capable opponent and exceptionally good sport.

The Monday before the final election it seemed as though it would be a matter of which were the most numerous, the boys or the girls.

Miss Steacy started her campaign that Monday but due to many causes, mine did not start until Wednesday.

This made little difference, however, except to make the race a little hotter.

That Friday as I listened to the reports of the precincts coming in, I began to realize the division between the sexes was not making as great a difference as had been rumored. Miss Steacy and I tied in a few rooms and in the others, we almost tied.

I can say that I got a little thrill during the second period when the final returns came in and when Miss Steacy congratulated me. I really felt sorry there couldn't have been two mayors because she is one of the best sports I have ever known.

My platform:

I am spending no money for printed posters. All of my campaign propaganda is hand-made.

I have offered no one a job if he would vote for me.

I am not taking my time from any other office or position in order to run for mayor.

I do not claim to "bring back prosperity." This is impossible for any mayor to do as the depression is world wide.

I favor:

1. Extensive improvements of parks.
2. Widening down town streets.
3. Repairing old bridge.
4. Beautifying river banks.
5. Relief for unemployed Dixonites.

Restocking Rock river with game fish.

7. Improvement of swimming facilities.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

FOR he shall deliver the needy when he crieth; the poor also, and him that hath no helper.—Psalms 72:12.

Mirth is God's medicine.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Our Hats Are Off To You
Our High School Fellows!

Today you are running this city in a make-believe way. Soon you will be running it in reality. That you will do a good job we have no doubt.

But it is well to remember that those who reach high places in either public or business life are careful of their personal appearance.

Clothes go a long way toward a young man's success. The right kind of clothes are important. We have that kind and they don't cost any more than the other kind.

The lecture will be based upon the Culbertson System.

NAME SUGGESTED FOR NEW RIVER BANK HIGHWAY

Improvement Now Under Way May Be Called
"Statue Drive"

By LESTER PITCHER

It has been proposed by the Dixon Park Board to have approximately 2300 feet of path along the north side of the Rock River running from Jefferson Avenue to the Lincoln Highway. This path will be of concrete and asphalt crossing beneath both the Galena and Peoria Avenue bridges, this will do away with the dangers of crossing the streets at the bridges. There will be a connecting path with the walks of Galena and Peoria Avenue and also with the walk in front of the high school.

Directly in front of the high school there will be a flower bed surrounded by the walks. The park will contain a lagoon about three hundred feet in length by seventy-five feet in width, at the widest point. The lagoon may be used as a skating rink during the winter months. The water in the lagoon rises and falls with the river, consequently it will always have clear water.

There will be three tennis courts of asphalt directly south of the west end of the high school. They will be equipped with wire backstops and tennis nets for the use of the public. At a later date a time limit will be placed on the courts so that everyone may have a chance to play.

The drives will all be of asphalt and twenty feet in width. There will be available parking spaces for people desiring to picnic or play tennis. The driveway is to connect with the road in front of the school, curving along the river bank and along the Illinois Central Railroad track until it reaches the Lincoln Highway. The entrance to the Lincoln Highway will be arranged on a safe and easy grade so no danger from traffic will come at this point. The entrance to the athletic field will be abandoned and in its place the new road will be used.

It has been suggested to call this new road the Lincoln Statue Drive changing it from its present name, Water Street. It has also been suggested that the playground equipment be removed from the John Dixon park and be placed in the new park. The new name has not been officially designated so it is generally known as the High School Park.

ASHTON NEWS

By E. Tilton

Ashton—The senior class of the high school is now entering the final round of school festivities which will close their high school days. The junior-senior banquet on Friday evening opened the season which will close for them with the presentation of their diplomas on May 27 when the class will bid their school mates farewell.

May 20 the Senior class will have their class night. This is an event always looked forward to and one to which they devote much attention. This year their program promises to live up to these given in the past. At any rate they are very mysterious about it and the entire school looks forward to the night. Baccalaureate address will be given at St. John's Lutheran church on Sunday, May 20 with the address given by the pastor of that church, the Rev. F. W. Henke.

Commencement exercises will be held May 27 with the Rev. James O'May of Chicago giving the address. The Rev. O'May is the father of Herman O'May, instructor in instrumental music in the high school, and his address will be one which all will appreciate. Seventeen members compose the class of 1932 and there will be many who will gather to hear Rev. O'May at their commencement day exercises.

The class the past week enjoyed a visit to the I. N. U. plant at Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Danekas are the parents of a small son born May 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens and Mrs. Wesley Wagner visited Mr. Stevens' mother who is a patient at St. Mary's hospital at Streator.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hartman have located at a cottage at Assembly park in Dixon for the summer.

The eighth grade class of the grade schools are hosts to their mothers at a Mother's Day program in the grammar room Friday. Under the capable direction of their teacher, Mrs. Kathryn Jennings, the pupils will give an interesting program of music and tribute to their mothers who will be the guests of the afternoon.

Mrs. Vernon Smith will be hostess to the Queen Esther Circle of the M. E. church on Tuesday, May 9. Mrs. John Torrens will assist her.

Mrs. Sarah Losey and Mrs. Orner have returned from Galena where they spent two days at the Thirtieth District convention of Federated Women's Clubs. Accompanying them were Mrs. Mildred Clove, Mrs. Robert Johnston and Mrs. C. R. Price of Mt. Morris.

Boys from the agriculture classes of L. W. Slothover, enter the judging contest at Byron Friday. Both the dairy and fat stock contests will be entered by the teams from the Ashton high school. Ashton boys have brought home their share of ribbons in the events in other years and will no doubt do so this year also.

Miss Ruth Boyd is proud possessor of an honorable mention received in a flash light picture contest in a national contest.

Miss Florence Schaefer, Miss Vera Gleim and Glenn Genneman and Adam Gleim motored to Bloomington to attend the showing

HOW THE STARS GLITTERED AT A RECENT HOLLYWOOD "FIRST NIGHT"

Clark Gable . . . doesn't lack for charming feminine company . . . as you see him above with his wife (center) . . . and brilliantly-gowned Norma Shearer of the passion play given at this season in that city.

Marlene Dietrich . . . appears in black satin . . . and a pensive mood.

Removing Another Peril From the Workman's Path

Prof. J. A. Torrens received the award granted the local schools as a superior school the past week. Ashton school was the first in Lee county to receive the award.

The peach trees of the community are a beautiful sight these days in their brilliant, fragrant blossoms of pink.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Root were hosts to the Rev. C. D. Wilson on Sunday at dinner.

Ashton will enter the Green river valley track meet which is to be held at Franklin Grove on Friday. Those who have entered for the various events are: 50-yard dash, Robert Dean and Eugene Sword; 100-yard dash Robert Dean and Alby Moyer; 220-yard dash, Alby Moyer and Eugene Sword.

Mavor Ventler appointed the following members of the village council to serve the community for the term.

Finance—Wagner, Howard, Farrow.

Streets and Alleys—Howard, Gehant, Pfeiffer.

Ordinance — Farrow, Wagner, Witzel.

Light and Sewer — Farrow, Gehant and Pfeiffer.

Public Health—Ventler, Howard, Witzel.

Local Improvements — Ventler, Gehant.

Paul Charters was chosen village Treasurer. Four applicants made bids for the position of city marshal — Linscott, Wagner, Farrow and Bowers, the latter being the marshal at the present time.

The junior class of the high school carried off the honors for attendance at school with an average of 95.53 per cent.

Miss Ethel Smith will teach the Beach school the coming year and Mrs. Orno Kersten will teach the school at Bradford corner.

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Root were hosts to the grade school orchestra at their home on Tuesday evening. With their instructor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Herman O'May, the young musicians enjoyed a delightful three course dinner which Mrs. Root, assisted by Miss Mazie Schinzer served.

Mrs. Jim Cordes and Miss Aleta Eich will be hosts to the Orphans Aid of the St. John's Lutheran church on Tuesday, May 12.

Miss Kathryn Griffith was hostess to friends from Dixon on Monday, her guests being Mrs. Herman Rasch and Mrs. Arthur Hill.

Plans for the annual May breakfast of the Ashton Woman's Club are for May 14.

Mr. and Mrs. George Orner of Rochelle were guests at the Harry Worthington home on Monday.

Miss Margaret Wood will have charge of the Pine Rock 4-H club which will hold its first meeting at the Chana M. E. church May 7.

Mrs. H. C. Blanchard who has been a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Dean, the past winter, accompanied her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hammel of Lake Geneva to their home the past week.

Miss Emma Butler who has taught the Sanders school will return next year.

Better than 50 percent of the pupils of Neuman school taught by Miss Ethel Smith attended school the past year without loss by absence. They were Gerald Arnold, Elmer Turner, Kathryn Turner and Esther Wagner.

A truck from Charles City, Iowa, came to grief at Yorty's corner early Monday morning, overturning and causing some damage to its load, which consisted of hogs, cattle and eggs. Luther Sword's truck carried the produce the balance of the trip to Chicago.

Jim Clemens who spent several weeks with his daughter in Florida has returned to Ashton.

Mrs. Raymond Wolford of Franklin Grove was hostess to the St. John's Lutheran Aid at her home. Her mother, Mrs. Meister, who was to have been hostess remains in poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Elrich are driving a new Chevrolet.

The Rev. F. W. Henke, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church will deliver the Memorial Day address at Ashton this year. The Ashton band will have charge of the instrumental music; Harry Wisman the vocal music and the Ashton post of the American Legion, with Earl Pierce as marshal of the day. Commander Clarence Paddock of the Legion post will read the roll of honor. The exercises are scheduled for 2:00 p. m.

Dr. and Mrs. Calhoun are guests this week of relatives at Streator. Miss Esther Boyd was the delightful hostess to a group of friends at her home in honor of her birthday anniversary.

Albert Todd of DeKalb was a guest of his parents during the week.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Sanford, Mrs. Ira Heath, Mrs. Cole Tilton and daughter, Marion, and Miss Mabel Tilton returned from attending a convention of Illinois Congregational-Christian churches at Springfield this week.

The W. M. S. of the Evangelical church meets May 11 with Mrs. W. H. Yenerich, with Mrs. P. O. Bailey in charge of the topic. The members of the Reynolds W. M. S. will be their guests that day.

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Thomas are expected home from Rochester, Minn. the coming week.

ANOTHER PARADE OF DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES SEEN

The California Primary Results Largely Responsible

Washington, May 7.—(AP)—

Another parade of Democratic favorite sons and dark horses is beginning, stirring the dust of new uncertainties for the party just as the Republicans stalwarts show notable signs of consolidating their position behind President Hoover.

At no previous time since the pre-convention campaign began has there been a more varied and conflicting discussion of candidates among the Democrats, or greater outward show of hopefulness among the Republicans.

In both cases the California primary is largely responsible. Governor Roosevelt's defeat there is stimulating both his friends and his enemies to redoubled exertion. President Hoover's unexpectedly large vote, coupled with other developments, is greatly encouraging his supporters.

he would support a Roosevelt ticket as against Hoover was hardly a surprise. He deserted the Republicans in favor of Smith in 1928.

The Democrats have come to a critical time. As the California returns rolled up the margin of Speaker John N. Garner's victory over Roosevelt, many of the New York Governor's opponents said in their haste and exuberance that this was the end of the famous Roosevelt boom. The tendency has been to amend that judgment after more careful consideration, but the search for a compromise candidate is going forward with great diligence as the Roosevelt men prepare to fill up the gaps and carry on with more determination than ever.

Talk Gets Nowhere

Among the favorite sons, the present speculation of the anti-Roosevelt leaders centers around Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, and former Governor Harry F. Byrd of Virginia. There is even more talk, however, of bringing definitely into the field someone with no delegates now pledged to him, and trying out party opinion. There is a revival of discussion about Newton D. Baker and Owen D. Young, also Melvin A. Traylor.

One of the greatest evidences of the dominant position still occupied by Roosevelt, however, lies in the fact that nothing like an agreement is in sight on any one candidate to oppose him. Garner's friends seem to have little hope of nominating him, despite California and Texas. Few responsible leaders believe Alfred E. Smith can repeat. The talk goes on, but it is largely on the same old lines, getting no where.

HERE'S COURAGE

Stockton, Cal.—No one questions the courage of Andrew Weaver, 16, now. While crawling under a fence, he accidentally shot himself in the chest with a loaded rifle. After the accident, Weaver climbed into his auto and drove several miles to Stockton Emergency hospital, where he underwent an immediate operation for removal of the bullet, which had gone through a lung and lodged in his back.

ENLARGEMENT OF R. R. CONFERENCE IS BEING TALKED

Chicago Northwest M. E.
Conference May Be Dissolved

Atlantic City, N. J., May 7.—(AP)—Methodist Episcopal delegates today faced the task of deciding whether the first message from their General Conference to the church at large would be an appeal for $1,000,000 to support the financially harassed missionary, philanthropic and educational program of the denomination.

The committee on the State of the Church has already approved the emergency appeal for submission to the consideration of the conference.

Some criticism was voiced of the emergency message which calls upon all Methodist pastors and their congregations to start the $1,000,000 drive on May 15 and to secure 200,000 units of $4 each in the two weeks before May 31, when the campaign is to end.

Dr. Frank Kingdom of East Orange, N. J., was one of several committee members to express the opinion that the appeal would be "futile" and not productive of its million dollar goal because church members would regard it as "just another request" for financial aid.

During the discussion, Joseph J. Shyla, a Chillicothe, Mo., attorney referring to all the financial problems of the church, suggested that Methodist organize its own financial institutions to handle the security obligations and loans of its departments.

"As long as we are paying six per cent," he said, "why not pay it to the Methodist Episcopal church rather than to J. P. Morgan?"

The committee, by an 83 to 12 vote, finally approved the emergency message late yesterday.

Meanwhile, the attention of mid-western delegates has been focused on the Committee on Boundaries, whose sub-committee has authorized a consolidation proposal for the fusion of the Chicago Northwest Conference with the Rock River, Wisconsin, Iowa, Upper Iowa, Minnesota, Detroit, Northwest Iowa, Illinois and West Wisconsin conferences.

The plan was proposed by Dr. A. J. Loeppert and J. H. Tonjas Superintendents of the Chicago and Milwaukee districts of the Chicago Northwest Conference. The Rock River and the Wisconsin Conferences will receive the bulk of the Chicago Northwest churches if the recommendation is adopted.

Real Sportsmanship
In Recent Election

By PANSY JACOBS

We think the members of the Dixon High School should be commended for their sportsmanship during the recent election. During the whole time the pupils showed the utmost respect for the candidates and there was absolutely no "mud-slinging" in any of the campaign speeches. The candidates especially, showed good sportsmanship and when the returns of the primary election were received, the losers did not lose interest in the project.

The regular election, on April 29, was the most exciting election ever held in the Dixon High School. While the election returns were being compiled, heated discussions were being held in the corridors concerning the probable results of the election. When the returns of the election were announced, there were many disappointed pupils, but they were all sportsmen enough to realize that someone had to lose.

We think everyone will agree that the members of the high school, and especially the candidates for office, were good sports and we only hope that if there should be a similar election next year, the students will show as much sportsmanship as they have this year.

REALLY FOR RUB

Fort Worth, Texas—A wrinkled little man entered the offices of Federal Judge James Wilson and asked for a gallon of medicinal liquor "for a rheumatism cure." He explained that he was going to mix the whiskey with a dead rattlesnake and herbs, and rub the concoction on his ailing knee. He promised to bring the snake into the judge's office to show he was on the level.

Heine Meine's failure to sign a Pittsburgh contract and his subsequent suspension from organized ball is proving costly to the Pirates.

Defeated in eight of their last nine games, chiefly because of poor pitching, the Pirates would find lots of use for the righthander who won 19 games while losing 13 for a fifth place club last year.

As matters stand, manager Geo. Gibson has only one curver who has shown any signs of dependability. Steve Swetonic, has turned in two straight three hit performances.

In their last nine games, the Pirates hurlers have granted an average of more than six runs per game, and to make things worse, the team's offense has been weak. Paul Waner and Gus Suhr alone were hitting over .300 through yesterday's game, in which the Corsairs absorbed a 4 to 2 beating from the Phillies.

The Chicago Cubs climbed back into the league lead when they squared their series with Brooklyn, 3 to 1, while the Boston Braves were dropping a second straight to Cincinnati, 14 to 1. Guy Bush kept seven Dodger hits scattered while his mates grouped their eight off Van Mungo, Shaute and Quinn. Woody English returned to the Cubs lineup to hit a triple and score the winning run in the eighth.

Red Lucas pitched a four-hit game for the Reds. Heath and Gilbert led a 16-hit assault on three of McKechnie's fingers. Tight relief pitching by Clarence Mitchell, who held the Cardinals scoreless after relieving young Harold Schumacher in the sixth, featured the Giants' second victory over the world champions, 4 to 3.

Joe McCarthy's New York Yankees vaulted from fourth place to second in the American League when George Pipgras set the Detroit Tigers down, 1 to 0. Pipgras allowed only five hits and struck out seven.

Al Simmons and Roger Cramer performed the punch as the Athletics tripped Cleveland again, 5 to 2.

Chicago's White Sox broke a seven-game losing streak auspiciously by trimming the league leading Washington Senators, 5 to 3. It was the first loss in five starts for Monte Weaver, big Washington rookie.

Fred Schulte's home run in the seventh with Jim Levey on base gave St. Louis Browns their second victory over the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 5.

What Averages Of Big Leagues Show This Week

NATIONAL LEAGUE
New York, May 7.—(AP)—With the averages slipping rapidly through the fourth week of the National League season and the batting race growing tighter, Hughie Critz of the New York Giants and Arthur "Pinkey" Whitney of Philadelphia stood up under the strain a bit better than their rival sluggers to hold the first two places among the regulars.

Critz retained first place on the list with an even .400 average, only seven points below his mark a week before, while Whitney gained the second rung with a .407 mark.

Another Philadelphia, Les Mallon, held third place at .381, only one point ahead of George Watkins of St. Louis. The rest of the "first ten" consisted of Paul Waner, Pittsburgh, .378; Worthington, Boston, .377; Terry, New York, .364; Klein, Philadelphia, .360; Herman, Cincinnati, .355; and Grantham, Cincinnati, .351.

The slugging honors were about evenly spread over a small group of leaders with Paul Waner, Bill Terry, Chuck Klein and Pittsburgh's surprising Gus Suhr sharing the distinction of holding two "firsts."

Individual Marks

Waner led in doubles with Cleveland and stolen bases with five.

Terry and Suhr each had batted in 18 runs to split the lead. Suhr also was first with four triples and Terry and Jim Collins of the Cardinals each had six homers to their credit. Whitney was the other batting leader with 29 hits while Terry, with 20 runs, topped the scorers.

The widely distributed second place honors went this way: 18 runs, Whitney and Paul Waner; 28 hits, Critz and Paul Waner; eight doubles, Whitney, Watkins, Worthington, Frederick of Brooklyn and Stephenson of Chicago; four triples, Klein, Herman and Vaughn of Pittsburgh; four home runs, Worthington; 17 runs batted in, Herman, four stolen bases, Watkins, Herman, Frisch, St. Louis and Vaughn, Cincinnati.

The New York Giants held the club batting lead although their aggregate mark had slipped to .283, just two points ahead of the Phillies. In fielding the Boston Braves were ahead with a .974 average.

The list of undefeated pitchers was reduced to nine with young Lonnie Warneke of Chicago in first place with four straight victories. Another Cub moundman, Charlie Root, and Walter "Huck" Betts of the Boston Braves right behind, each with three games won and none lost.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

(Advance)—Chicago, May 7.—(AP) Jimmy Fox, one of Connie Mack's boys who refuses to ride the toboggan of an early season slump, smashed his way to the top of the American League batting race during its third week.

Unofficial averages, including games of Wednesday, gave the Philadelphia first baseman 25 hits in 61 attempts for the mark of .410. G. Walker of Detroit, leader of the batting race at the end of the second week with a .472, dropped to seventh with .397 point fall.

Carl Reynolds* of Washington climbed into second place with a .30 point gain to .398 for the week.

The list of leaders was conspicuous by the absence of Babe Ruth whose average fell from .394 to .327 during the week. The other pace setters, were Appling; Chicago, .394; Dickey, New York, .389; Myatt, Cleveland, .385; Gehrig, New York, .377; G. Walker, Detroit, .375; Oliver, Boston, .371; Goslin, St. Louis, .362, and Cronin, Washington, .362.

Individual Marks

Individual batting performance honors were scattered although Johnson of Detroit led in two specialists with 29 hits for the largest number of safe blows and a leading total of nine doubles. Porter of Cleveland led in run getting with 20, Gehring of Detroit topped the field in hits for total bases with a record of 49 and was tied with Averill of Cleveland in batting in runs at 23. Chapman of the Yankees led in base stealing, as per custom, with five, while six others tied Fox with three triples and Red Sox with two.

Babe Ruth led the home run race with six circuit smashes Wednesday night.

The Yankees kept in front in team batting with a .235 per cent.

Even a Count Can Be All Wet

Not all counts can be all wet one minute and the answer to a maiden's prayer in the next. But Count de Lahorgue can, as these pictures attest. The count used to be plain Alberto Zorilla, Argentine's Olympic swim champion in the 400-meters free style, until an uncle in France died a few months ago and bequeathed him a title. The close-up, top, is Zorilla's swimming face. Below, he displays the angelic smile any maiden would expect Prince Charming to have. The girl is Betty Becker Pinkston, Olympic high-diving champion in 1928, who hadn't seen Zorilla since he became a count.

this year and may add the second conference crown of the school term. Today Ogan, Strong, Smith, Padgett, Condon, Compton, Talty, Williams, Schildberg, Fordham, Flanigan, Beech and Ramsey should score a heavy total.

Belvidere has been considerably weakened by the departure of Dale, sprint champion of the conference. At present, he is running under Rockford high school colors. M. King, miler, A. King, shot-put, and Whitehead, sprinter appear as their leading candidates.

DeKalb has another good group of tracksters. Roche, mile titleholder is having a successful bit of competition. Sakoushy and Considine are fine men in the weight events with McGloshan a fair middle distance man.

Sterling won the league meet last year but Overholser and Klinger, each of whom won two events in the 1931 contest, have graduated. Schuneman, King and Knox are others who are out of school. Praetz is the likely winner of the shot-put while Weaver, Butt, pole vaulter, Terhune, Hendricks, Andrews and Otten round out a good squad.

Mendota's first look-in at a North Central meet is liable to be very slim, as shown by Dixon's 95-27 dual victory. Howarth, a hurdler and Newman, shot-put will offer the only serious opposition.

A beautiful silver trophy will be presented to the winning team. Points will be awarded to the first four in each event.

DIXON TRACK TEAM

By DON HILLIKER

Dixon high is having one of its best seasons in the track and field sport. Three overwhelming victories in dual meets with Polo, Rock Falls and Mendota indicate a high score in the conference meet here today and in the sectional meet at Freeport May 14. Ogan and Strong are leading the Dixonites with great work in every meet. Ogan has 64 points garnered in the pole vault, discus, javelin, shot-put and relay. His best work comes in the pole vault with a jump of 10 feet 7 inches as his record, and in the javelin, 144 feet is his longest heave. Strong is league. He has yet to lose this easily the best high-jumper in the event this season, his highest leap going 5 feet 6 inches. He hits 20 feet in the broad jump and travels the furlong in 24.5 seconds.

Smith, in his first year as a track performer, has the half-mile as a specialty. His fastest time was 2:10 made in the class meet.

He has never crossed the line behind another runner. Condon, freshman, and Talty, senior, fight for honors in the 100 yard event. Both have a mark of 10.7 for the race. Talty travels the quarter in 56 seconds. Schildberg and Fordham are the most consistent hurdle performers. Padgett leads the milers. Williams, Flanigan, Compton, Ramsey and Beech are excellent members in their respective events.

The well-balanced work in strength in distance runs, broad jump, vault, high jump and sprints the home team should complete the season with an enviable record.

GOLF

By W. A. Thompson, Jr.

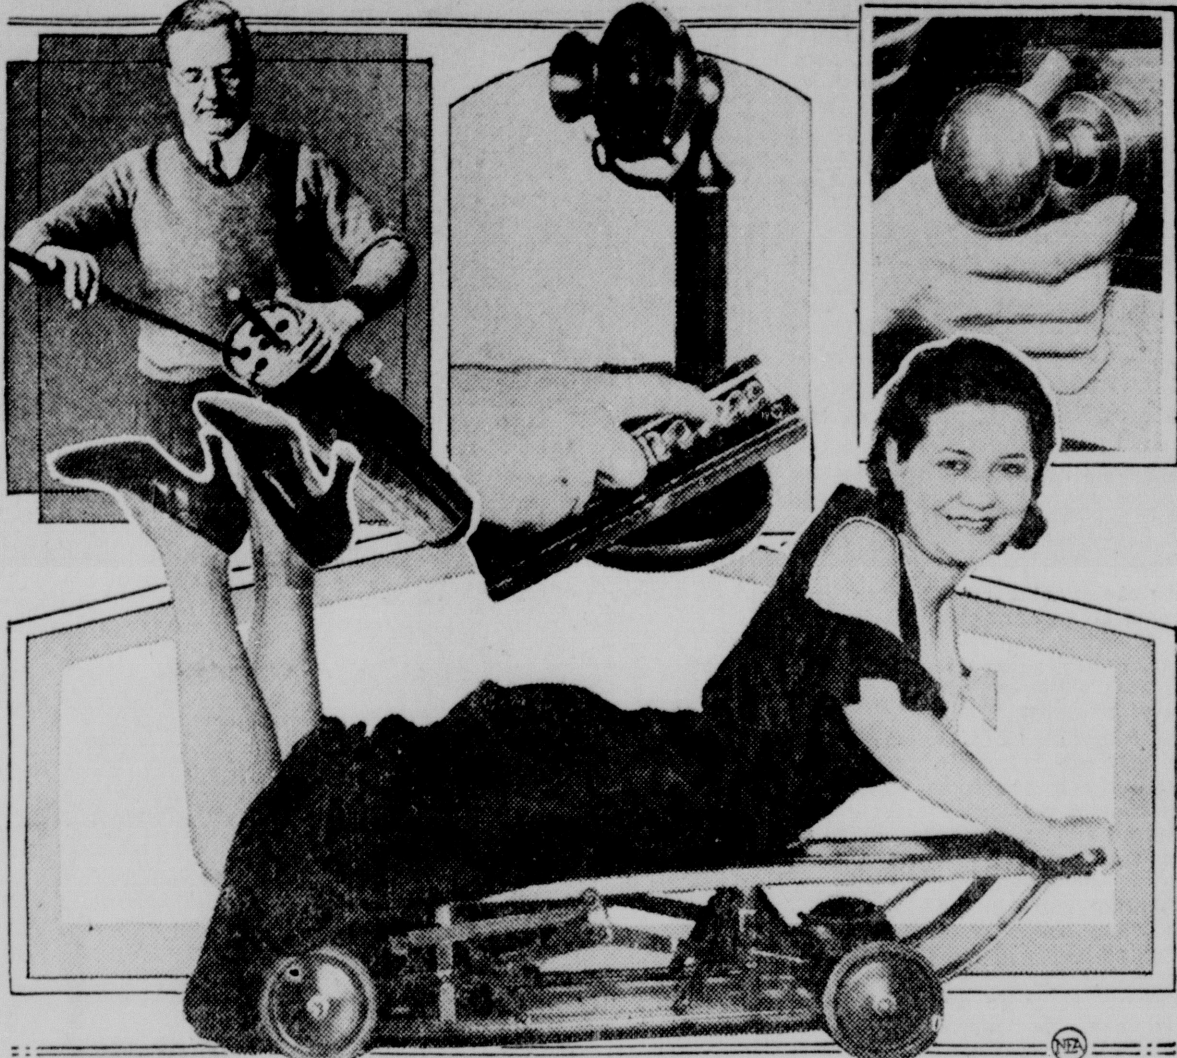

The students of the high school have another great advantage this year. Through the work of certain individuals in the school and the cooperation of the faculty and business men, there will be a new sport introduced this year.

The sport is one that few schools the size of Dixon have been able to establish to date, though many are working toward it. The sport is golf.

A sport, that is not only a splendid opportunity for the students while in high school, but one that will probably stick with most of them for years to come, and give them hours of entertainment and good outdoor exercise.

There have been no definite dual tournaments set with other schools as yet nor have we been able to enter any particular conferences. However, there has been a tournament scheduled for the

It's patent that patents will take the tricks again this year, and the necessity for making money is the mother of new inventions. Here are some of the unusual devices that will be exhibited at the International Patent Exposition in New York soon. No golfer minds stealing away from his work on nice afternoons, but he doesn't like his sticks to be stolen; a plate locked over a golf-bag (upper left) prevents theft of the clubs. Just as a few people here and there are learning how to use the present dial telephones, another inventor rings the bell with a new type of straight-slide dial (upper center). Another "knotty" gadget, which proves that one good turn deserves another, is a combination lock (upper right) for door-knobs. Though sheer hosiery makes most girls afraid of "runners," the smiling miss seen below apparently enjoys the runners on a new combination sled-and-scooter, designed for year-round play.

What Today's Project Means To The Students

By A. H. LANCASTER

The city election project in civics has given the students of the Dixon high school an opportunity to develop the active virtues of citizenship in a democracy. Educators are recognizing increasingly the truth of what Thordike said in 1911: "In the last analysis what the scholars do, not what the teacher does, educates them; not what we give, but what they get, counts, and only through their self activity are they directly trained."

The project has provided the following:

1. Training for worthy citizenship through the development of cooperation, self-control, self-reliance, initiative and responsibility.

2. The establishment of better understanding, better spirit and cooperation between the school and the community.

3. Increased interest in school work, school spirit and school pride.

4. Development of intelligent leadership.

At the present time is very essential for youth to recognize that freedom comes through law. If these future citizens will take an active part in making the laws it is probably true that the laws will be better enforced, but this is not the fundamental idea. The primary thing is for them to understand why the law is necessary and that it is only through law that they can have either freedom or safety.

The success of this project has been made possible through the cooperation of various citizens and organizations in the community. It has been a definite contribution to the training of the high school students.

rens have the honor this year of speaking for their class.

The exercises will be held June 3, 1932. The principal speaker for the occasion has not been definitely selected as yet.

CLUBS IN HIGH SCHOOL ADD TO STUDENT LIFE

Activities Of Inner Organizations Are Briefly Told

By Maxine Hawkins

What do we do besides study in high school? This is a question asked by many. Do we have parties, clubs, picnics, and sports? We do, and plenty of them. Let us take a peek in at some of our most popular clubs, that many pupils of the Dixon high school attend.

First let us visit the "Commercial Club." This club is a new organization for all students in commercial subjects. It meets the third Tuesday of every month. These gatherings are evening affairs, eagerly looked forward to by the members. Usually there is a speaker present and the club has had the opportunity of hearing some very interesting and helpful talks so far this year. The Commercial Club is the best making organization in the school. Miss Kling and Miss Kinsella work with the club and are the foundation of the club's success.

Second, let us go alternate Wednesdays of the month to witness the fun-making of the Hi-Tri Club. This club is organized under the able guidance of Mrs. White. Every girl of the D. H. S. is entitled to participate in the activities, but not until the Senior year are the girls entitled to wear the gold pin and guard, or attend the meetings, which are held entirely out of school hours. A "banquet" is held on the meeting nights. There is often a speaker. In the evening, following the business meeting, the gym is thrown open for dancing or games. This year in the Hi-Tri Club, we have formed a Hi-Tri Glee Club, a Hi-Tri Orchestra, and a Hi-Tri basketball, and base ball teams.

A club we have for the Sophomores is known as the "Sophomore Literary Society." The meetings of this society are held after school each month. Along with the business transactions, there are various types of programs given, which have proven very well done. The purpose of this club is to encourage the appreciation of literature and the ability of its members along this line. The faculty advisors are Miss Heinke and Miss Wright.

A newly organized club of last year, under the guidance of Miss Burnham and Miss Newman, is the Mathematics Club. The meetings are held the first Thursday of the month in the music room. The purpose of this club is to encourage the members to acknowledge the value of mathematics and to promote a more general interest along this line.

Did you say you smelled something cooking? There's no mistake; we're in the Home Economics Club. And what fine looking girls. This club holds its meetings monthly. The object of the Home Economics Club is to take over the study of the lives of women who have helped in the progress of Home Economics. Miss White and Miss Cetta are the instructors of the club. The club continues to grow larger each year, last year and this year being the largest enrollments in its history.

Now, dear reader, do you still ask if we do other things besides studying and reciting 8 periods a day? There are many more clubs that have a large enrollment such as the:

"The Boys and Girls Glee Club"
"The French Club"
"The Latin Club"
"The Senior Boys Honor Club"
"The Future Farmers of America Club"
"The Debate Team"
"The Dramatic Club"

All of the clubs mentioned have proven to be successful in the work they are doing.

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

By Kenneth Wiedman
The agriculture department has an enrollment of thirty-nine members. These are sixteen juniors and seniors in the farm management class, while there are twenty-three freshmen and sophomores in the animal husbandry class.

In addition to class work we are required to carry on a supervised project, while taking the course. We are also given opportunities to study scientific as well as practical agriculture. The practical knowledge is obtained from supervised projects in which each student must keep records on expenditures, receipts, and also cost records.

Last year the boys in agriculture produced ninety-seven acres of corn with a yield of 4493.5 bushels, and a profit of $863.84. Nine boys in our department had swine projects. They produced 55,114 lbs. of pork, with a total profit of $973.88. Other boys in the department took various projects, such as potatoes, poultry, sheep, beef cattle, dairy cattle, peas for canners, and orchard management.

In addition to the net earnings of the projects, the boys exhibit their farm products and livestock at various fairs in Illinois, at which our boys won over a thousand dollars in prize money alone. The total net profit of all projects last year was three thousand dollars. This would make the net income for last year $4000. This is just value in dollars and cents, but in addition, there is a value of knowledge that cannot be estimated, brought about by improved methods in agriculture.

Our Department has been active in other lines of work. Sectional grain and poultry judging contest at Stockton. Our team ranked second in total points, while Lanark won the contest. We sent a representative to the public speaking contest at Rock Falls, who ranked third. At the present time we have been preparing for a Livestock Judging Contest to be held this

SENIOR BOYS HONOR CLUB

By Tom Mosher

The Senior Boys Club—a high school organization to encourage, a scholarship, high moral standing, and to help the students choose a vocation—met in its usual business session Wednesday, May 4. It was decided that a picnic would be held Thursday, May 12, and at that time the new members will be initiated and the oath will be administered to them.

THE DRAMATIS CLUB

By Marietta Warner

The Dramatic Club is held every two weeks, at which time a number of plays are given by the various members of this society, under the direction of one of the teachers.

The purpose of this club is to further the student's interest in dramatics and to aid them in showing any dramatic ability which they might have.

The students benefit a great deal by this, since they have a better understanding of the structure of plays and learn how to impress upon their audience certain effects.

THE PUBLIC SPEAKING CLUB

The Public Speaking Club, or Senate, is an organization which meets with violent action each Tuesday at 3:40.

The orders of the day are carried out in strict parliamentary order and the members join in a heated debate each week. The President has complete charge of the meeting. There is also a clerk who not only writes up the minutes, but keeps on file motions that are before the house. The club is an effective teacher of public speaking and parliamentary law, as the students get the actual experience.

However, under the able supervision of the advisers, M. C. Selander, the differences of opinion in regard to parliamentary law, have been arbitrated.

The Senate has had a very successful year and I am quite certain that all the members forget their differences and are on friendly terms outside the meetings.

DEBATE CLUB

By Tom Mosher

The Debate Club, under the supervision and direction of M. C. Selander, had a very successful year. The high school did not enter the Northern Illinois Conference Debate, but rather they had Round Robin debates at the Dixon Women's Club, Toastmasters Club, and others. The club was composed of six teams, three negative and three affirmative. The question debated was "Resolved that the System of Board and Commissions created by the Federal Government are a detriment to the American People."

SCARBORO NEWS

SCARBORO—Mr. and Mrs. C. R. White and son Robert were in Dixon Tuesday.

George Lutz of Malta and C. Strack of Cortland were in this vicinity Tuesday.

Paul Caye who has been sick for several weeks is reported to be gaining.

Mrs. Mommert who has been assisting in the Peter Brett home for two months returned to Rockford.

F. R. Wiley and W. E. Byrd were in Steward Sunday morning, and Richard Grove has been on the sick list.

C. W. White has been remodeling the cab on the Viola township grader.

The parsonage is being papered and decorated. C. Hare and family are now occupying the property.

Thursday, April 28 marked the closing of another successful year of the Scarboro school taught by Miss Helen Grove. On Friday a picnic was held at the school house. Sixty-five neighbors and friends gathered to help the children celebrate and enjoy the sumptuous dinner and ice cream.

The afternoon was spent playing games, running races and baseball. Before leaving for home they were treated to ice cream cones and cake. Gerald Schoenholz the only eighth grade pupil completed his work with an average of 97.

Participants In Day's Civic Project Thankful

Not many weeks ago our Civics instructors mentioned a letter which had been written them, suggesting a Civics project in which the students of that subject might be elected to the various offices and control the entire government of the city for one day. Of course there were many debates about the possibility of it. We saw it as a wonderful dream, but very few students thought of it as a dream that would come true.

Today that dream has come true. In fact we are being allowed even more opportunities than we had dreamed of. There is only one explanation. We have had the assistance and cooperation of not only the student body and faculty, but the members of the city council and the business men of the city.

Mayor Dixon has not only had the city officials and his own assistants helping us, but he has worked with us himself, devoting much of his own time.

The members of the city council have given their advice and made our knowledge of city government much more broad and they unambiguously consented to turning their desks over to us for one day.

The business men of the city who have positions as chairmen and members of boards have given much of their time to teaching the activities of the boards to the students assigned to them. The others have respected us and made things as easy as possible for us during the day.

The student body in general and the faculty have given many tedious hours of their time in choosing officers, etc. Our Civics teachers and the others as well have put in many extra hours with us while we receive the entire benefit.

And finally we wish to thank the Dixon Evening Telegraph for the opportunity they have given us to learn and practice the things of major importance in journalism. The entire staff have relinquished their desks and patiently stood at one side ready to give any helpful information that the students might wish.

We thoroughly appreciate the work time and cooperation we have received from all of you, as we realize we are the sole beneficiaries. We feel that we really have learned a great deal about governing a city, as well as relying on ourselves, thinking for ourselves, and successfully caring for ourselves.

We are quite sure that the aim of the citizens in backing this project has been to prepare us to be better citizens and we are positive that if this was their aim they have been highly successful.

Station SENIOR About To Sign Off

By Maurice Wilson

We started our career as a crystal set, very small and mighty hard to operate. Most of the time we remained silent and tuneless. As yet few loud speakers were heard. Our recitations were mostly squeaks and squawks with very few clear tones.

The next stage of our career, when we were sophomores, passed to one tube sets with plenty of static from the lowly crystal sets that came after us. Loud speakers were still lacking though our operators, the teachers, tried hard to tune us to our best efforts. Faintly and from afar, there was sometimes a promise of wonderful programs.

In our third year we were five tube sets, with loud speakers much out of proportion to the other parts of our set. At this stage many outside stations heard from us, because of the many activities which we were engaged in.

At last we have reached perfection. We are accorded the highest respect of all the other sets. Sometimes from our polished set, you hear the frantic cheering at our football and basketball games. Our broadcast programs are a credit to our school, and loud, clear and distinct can be heard the station S-E-N-I-O-R now signing off.

A series of experiments has been started in Switzerland that will last 250 years. The experiments will determine movement of glaciers.

An Editorial Suggestion From The Senior Class

By ROEMARY HEEG

The Dixon High School has been conceded to be one of the finest buildings of its kind in the state.

The location is scenic, architecture, modernistic, and equipment, ornamental as well as useful. In the main, it is not only an incentive to educational development, but, also, a great stride toward civic improvement.

One would imagine from the foregoing description that our high school is complete in its entirety.

However, this is not true, for there remains one important feature to be finished—the auditorium. During the past two years, the gymnasium has had to substitute for the auditorium. While it has served the purpose, nevertheless, many inconveniences have had to be contended with. In the first place, the acoustic requirements are lacking, which is a strain on both the speaker and the audience.

Many of the students are required to sit on the bleachers, which causes unavoidable noises and disturbances. All class plays must be held in the old high school, when they would be a much greater success—as far as financial returns are concerned, and, also, as dramatic productions—if they were held in a building intended for that purpose. These are only a few disadvantages, but they are sufficient to illustrate the necessity of the auditorium.

Why has not this building been completed? The logical answer given is lack of funds. This is, of course, a very acceptable excuse. Right now, perhaps, there is a deficit in the city treasury, but eventually, when there is a surplus it could not be expended to better advantage than in the completion of this section of our school. Consequently, the city should be just as dissatisfied to see this beautiful building stand unfinished as are the faculty and students.

We, the Seniors of '32, hope that our suggestion might have a tendency to hurry the project along, and that, in the near future, the Seniors who come after us, shall be able to hold their graduating exercises in the Dixon high school auditorium.

OBITUARY

MRS. LEE LINCOLN

Lola Belle Morehead, daughter of Albert and Lucy Jane Morehead, was born near Queen City, Missouri, June 7, 1898, and died in Dixon, Illinois, May 3, 1932, aged 33 years 10 months and 26 days.

On April 16, 1918, she was united in marriage to Lee Lincoln in Maquoketa, Iowa. To this happy union five children were born. One child preceded the mother in death.

In 1924, the family moved to Dixon, Illinois where they have resided ever since.

Mrs. Lincoln was converted while young and united with the Free Methodist church but after a while she again lost her faith in God but was gloriously re-instated in the faith in 1918 shortly before her marriage and was true to her Lord to the last. In December 13, 1925 she with her husband transferred her membership to the Grace Evangelical church, of Dixon and was found at her place of duty whenever health permitted.

Those who remain to mourn the loss are: the sorrow stricken husband, four children: Mildred, Lee Noran, Ruth and Helen; the father and mother of Maquoketa, Iowa; one brother, J. E. Morehead of St. Paul, Minn. Two sisters, Mrs. W. W. Lister of Cedar Rapids, Iowa and Mrs. Myron Littell of Maquoketa, Iowa, and a host of other relatives and friends. One sister preceded her to the spirit world.

There are some lives that disappear, some impressions of character which we have to revise in later years, possibly ever reverse. The impressions which were formed of Lola Lincoln at first have continued unchanged to the very end of her life. Her chief thought was others. It was her delight to make somebody happy. Herein lay her joy in living. Many were her friends who are mourning her departure.

The funeral was conducted from Grace church on Thursday at 2 P. M. by A. D. Shaffer, Interment in the Dixon cemetery.

18. The Assessment of Personal Property

The assessment schedule contains a long list of articles of personal property besides a place for the value of the personal property which is unenumerated personal property. A glance at some of the results will permit judgment as to the results of this type of assessment.

The average value of horses in 1929 was $38. The best horses in the state, according to the assessors' books, were in Jo Daviess County, where they were worth $65. The cheapest were in Pulaski county where they were worth $18. The best cattle were in Monroe county, with a valuation of $50 each while in Pulaski county they were worth but $11 each.

Sheep ranged from $11 in Du Page county, to $2 in Alexander county, while hogs ranged from $11 in Whiteside county to $2.50 in Richland county.

Cook county had 587 fire and burglar proof safes with an average value of $72; Putnam county had but 1 worth $10, while Pulaski county had 3 worth $28 each. The best safes in the state were the 17 in Henry county worth $161 each, while the poorest were in White county worth $12 each.

In 1929 there were 5,000 billiard tables in the state of which 139 were in Cook county, worth $45 each. Winnebago county had 212 worth $63 each; Franklin 226 valued at $27 each; Kane, 199 worth $50 each; Pope, 1 worth $106; Clay 1 worth $25; while Clark, Jefferson, Johnson and Richland had none. The most valuable were 4 in Edwards county, at $150 apiece, while the cheapest were in Woodford county listed at $15 each.

Automobiles vary considerably in value among the different counties. The 15,960 in Cook county were worth $194 each, the highest in the state. Four counties, however, had more automobiles than Cook—Kane 19,346; LaSalle 16,078; Madison, 16,286; and St. Clair, 16,291. The least valuable cars were in Whiteside, $13; Clark, $46; and Macoupin, $54.

In 1929 the people of Kendall, Pulaski and Putnam counties told time by other means than watches and clocks for none were listed with the assessor. Cook county had but 4,446 valued at $18 each.

Kane county had 6,412, Sangamon county 4,519 and Vermilion county 4,544. The most valuable of the watches are the 2 in Henry county listed at $115 each while the poorest are the $2.38 ones in Wayne county.

Even by April 1, 1929 the people of Illinois seem to have unloaded most of their stocks and bonds. In Cook county there were left only $1,131,000 to list with the assessor; in Kane county, $1,017,000; in Richland county, $600; while in Carroll, Franklin, Hardin, Pulaski and Putnam no bonds and stocks were to be found. One wonders what was done with the receipts from sales because the total money holdings of individuals and corporations of the state was less than $30,000,000.

Steel blackboards with enamel surfaces have been invented for schools.

Aniline dyes, those made of coal tar, are now made in more than 200 different colors.

DIXON'S THIRTY-THIRD MAYOR IS NOW IN POWER

Mayor and City Council Given Oath At Council Meeting Friday Night

By DON HILLIKER

Dixon's thirty-third Mayor is now in power! Last evening the elected and appointed officials conducted a public meeting in the city hall at which time the oath of office was administered. Prospects for a roving council meeting tonight at 7:30 P. M. and a memorable day of student control of civic affairs were very encouraging at Friday's inaugural ceremonies.

Mayor Dixon opened the session with a brief history of the past administrations in Dixon ending with the last twenty-one years of the commission form of rule in the city. Wishing success to this and future projects Mr. Dixon dealt out some welcome advice. "This is a rare and happy occasion. You will carry on the work of the city, for the day. Officials should use good judgment so that it will be possible to make this an annual event of the school year. Bear in mind to be patient with your constituents."

Administering the oath to Mayor Habecker and Commissioners Talty, Sterling, Lambert and Tayman was completed in connection with the presentation of the badges of office. Habecker was introduced and Mayor Dixon turned over the gavel of the city to him.

Mr. Habecker outlined his platform elaborately. He stated as his plan to give help in building Dixon into the ideal city. A beautiful panorama of architecture, wealth and people is his aim. He took charge of the meeting and conducted it in a veteran manner.

A motion by Commissioner Sterling that Lois Stacy be appointed City Clerk was confirmed and Miss Stacy was given the oath of office and her badge by Mayor Habecker. Motion to reappointment of Mary Jane Tippet, City Treasurer, John Dixon, City Attorney, James Bales, Chief of Police, Stanley Biggart, Chief of Fire Department, Donald Ortgiesen, Health Officer, and Floyd Shore, City Engineer, were presented and accepted. These officers were sworn in separately by the Mayor, Orville Dodd, Police Magistrate, was next to take the oath.

Members of the Park Hospital, Library Boards and the Band Commission were read and confirmed by the Council. The oath was taken by the appointees.

On the motion of Commissioner Talty the first meeting in which city offices were filled by high school students was adjourned.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

THE REAL "DIXIE LAND"

The controversy over the location of "Dixie Land" has never been definitely settled. Although popularly applied to the states south of the Mason and Dixon's line, Dixie may have been located where New York City now stands. One popular theory has it that a slaveholder named Dixy of Manhattan Island, invested heavily in slaves and soon had many more than were needed on his small acreage. The work was light and food was plentiful, and the negroes grew to love Dixy's land. Later, when they were sold to southern owners, they found life a more serious problem, and then it was that the negroes sang of their old "Dixie Land" home.

The "Prince" Is On The Loose Again

New York, May 7.—(AP)—"Prince Michael Romanoff," or plain Harry Gerguson as he is known back in Illinois, is on the loose again.

Gerguson, arrested as a stow-away aboard the liner Ile de France on which he posed as a Russian prince, walked away from his guard yesterday and was still missing when they called the roll.

At Ellis Island this morning, Gerguson was to have been sent back to France, where he boarded the boat.

Explorations of the manner in which he escaped from the island were somewhat vague. James Drury, a guard, was coming to the mainland on business, and the "Prince" got permission to accompany him, saying he wished to get his luggage—consisting, it later was determined, of a walking stick.

The "Prince" and the guard were in a restaurant and Gerguson asked permission to wash up. He went to the washroom and kept right on going.

Once before the "Prince," who at that time was posing as a lesser nobleman—a duke of some kind—escaped from Ellis Island by swimming.

The Daily News today, in a copyrighted article, says a reporter met Gerguson on Fifth Avenue yesterday afternoon following the escape. Gerguson said he intended to leave town and get a job on a farm, explaining that he enjoyed that kind of work.

During his stowaway voyage on the Ile de France Gerguson concealed himself in a kennel during the day time. Under cover of darkness he changed into evening clothes and mingled with passengers, many of whom frankly confessed they never had seen a "Prince" before.

There are some circumstances in connection with the affair which immigration officials hinted today they would investigate.

SUSAN CAREY is in love with BOB DUNBAR, millionaire's son. DENISE ACKROYD, society girl, tries to break up the attachment and succeeds at a house party which she gives. ERNEST HEATH, Susan's employer, happens to be passing when Susan and Bob quarrel and takes her home. His wife threatens to sue for alienation of his affections, but changes her mind when JACK WARING, Heath's assistant, produces an incriminating letter. RAY FLANNERY, stenographer in the next office, confides to Susan her distress on hearing another girl, Ben and Susan quarrel on Christmas eve over some flowers Heath sent her. Waring, meeting Denise, learns of her interference in Susan's affairs. Heath asks Susan to be his wife when his divorce becomes final. She hesitates. Her aunt undergoes a serious operation and Susan decides to marry him for the sake of security.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXIV

SUSAN's engagement had not been announced since neither she nor Heath desired the publicity but it was a definite engagement just the same. Aunt Jessie, home from the hospital, had been told of it. She had met Ernest Heath and had grudgingly liked him although she had grumbled at the idea of their marriage.

"I never thought to see you marry a divorced man," she mourned. "Especially someone so much older. Not that he isn't a fine man. Anyone with half an eye can see that. It just doesn't seem right."

The starched nurse Heath had insisted upon providing for the convalescent bustled into the room then and Aunt Jessie fell silent. The plan was that on the following day Aunt Jessie was to go to Florida in the nurse's charge. The marriage would take place the following month.

"It don't seem right," Aunt Jessie went on when the nurse had disappeared. "to accept so much from a perfect stranger."

"He's not a perfect stranger," Susan said, laughing, and then wondered if she had really spoken the truth. It had been strange employer Ernest. She had finally managed it as she had learned also to like and admire the slim, quiet, aristocratic man whom she had promised to marry. The die had been cast. Heath had thought it unsuitable for her to continue working in the office so she was at home.

"Time for your nap," she reminded the invalid.

Aunt Jessie grumbled. "I declare I never expected to see the day when I'd sleep in the middle of the afternoon. I call it shiftless."

"You're a humbug. You really like it," Susan told her, leaving to get her wraps. Heath was calling to take her for a drive.

He looked at the girl with some dissatisfaction as she got into the car.

"What on earth's the matter?" Susan asked.

"Nothing, except that I wish you'd let me give you that fur coat now instead of waiting until later," the man remarked.

SUSAN shook her head. On this point she was stubborn. She would take anything for Aunt Jessie but nothing for herself until she was rightfully Heath's wife.

"I thought we'd go out to that little Spanish place for tea," he said.

"That would be nice. I'd like that," she assured him. The luxury and care with which he surrounded her was almost suffocating. Was she warm enough? Why had she worn those thin shoes? Susan appreciated the solicitude, at the same time finding it a little trying. Young men were not like this she reminded herself. Young men were careless and selfish and arrogant.

"What are you thinking of? You look as if you were miles away," she turned to smile at him.

"Only of how good you are to me."

There! She had pleased him and with so little. She was almost ashamed. It was so easy to make him happy. She divined something of his former loneliness.

The drive was longer than Susan had expected and it was dark when at last they returned to the city. It had been a clear, cold, sunny day, and a faint light still lingered on the lake. On sudden impulse Susan said, "Let's walk along the lake walk."

She wanted quite unreasonably to escape from the warm, luxurious car and feel the east wind on her cheeks. Heath told Simon to wait for them at the turn of the road.

"It's lovely here, isn't it?" breathed the girl. She leaned against the parapet, looking down at the water.

"Not as much so as some of the places you and I are going to see," the man reminded her.

She shivered involuntarily. Instantly he was all solicitude.

"You're cold. I knew you would be. We'd better go back to the car."

"No, no. It's not that," she protested. "It's only that I feel a little frightened sometimes. It has all worked out too smoothly. It seems as though something must be bound to happen."

"Nonsense." His reassurance was robust. "You're just fanciful, that's all."

"Maybe I am." But had it been fancy, Susan wondered, that had caused her to imagine the tall figure strolling past the house several nights when she had been saying goodby to Heath looked strangely like Ben? Somehow the idea had made her uneasy. She had refused to see Ben since Christmas eve when he had outrageously kissed her.

"What's that?" she asked fearfully, glancing over her shoulder.

"Nothing at all. Just the wind in the branches."

"It sounded like someone running." She looked back along the wind swept esplanade. "Perhaps we had better go."

THEY began to walk briskly in the direction from which they had come. Susan flung another anxious glance over her shoulder. Her nerves were certainly in a bad state. She could have sworn she had seen the shadow of a figure behind that oak tree.

She heard the whine of something past her ear. Heath grasped her arm roughly and began to run.

"What's the matter?" she panted, flying along beside him.

"Nothing, nothing! Only come along."

The footfalls behind them were no longer imaginary. They were real. That strange, whining sound came again and Susan recognized it for what it was—the room of a bullet! She felt her companion sway against her.

"What is it?" she cried. "Something warm trickled inside her glove. 'You're hurt!'"

"It's nothing. Some maniac has turned sniper," Heath gasped.

They could see the car only a few feet ahead. Heath stumbled and fell and Susan, through a roaring in her ears, heard a cry. She wheeled. The street light, glimmering, lighted the nightmare before her. There was Heath, unconscious at her feet. There was Ben, hatless beneath the trees, turning a bright barreled object upon himself.

"Stop it, you fool! Stop it!" it was her own voice but it sounded hoarse and strange. Ben lay grotesquely like a fallen marionette. Simon came running and lifted his employer.

"It's nothing. He only got me in the arm," Heath muttered. "I'll be all right." They helped him to the car. Oddly enough there were no spectators for this little drama. The park at this hour at this particular place was deserted.

"Who is the fool?" Heath demanded in a low, angry voice.

"I know him," Susan murmured. "I saw him for an instant under the light. It's a boy I used to see."

Heath glanced at her shrewdly. He knitted his brows for a moment, debating. Then he ordered Simon sharply. "Better drag the young idiot in here. We must hush this up at all costs."

SUSAN tried to protest. Calmly Heath ordered her to get into the front seat beside the chauffeur. His left arm hanging at his side, he managed to help Simon drag the limp figure of the boy into the car.

"Drive to Dr. Blake's in Bank street," he told Simon fiercely. "The young fool's still alive, thank Heaven, although he doesn't deserve to be."

Susan put throbbing hands to her temples. The horror of the situation overwhelmed her. Surely she would wake, and find she had been dreaming.

Dr. Blake's home had a driveway and a service door opening directly upon that. No one molested them or questioned them as they lifted the unconscious figure and carried it inside.

"You wait here," Heath told Susan. "I don't want you mixed up in this." He looked older, sterner.

"Your arm?" she faltered. Oh, she had not meant to bring trouble to him!

"It's all right. Blake will attend to it in a few minutes. Don't worry. It's lucky this happened so near his office. I've known him for years."

Simon came out, waiting orders. Heath told him, "You're to take Miss Carey home and come back for me."

Susan asked timidly, "You'll telephone me later and let me know what happens?"

"Of course."

TODAY'S CIVIC PROJECT MARKS ANOTHER SUCCESS

Students Have Shown Excitement Preparing For Big Day

By MARGARET ROGERS.

Dixon is about to be added to the list of cities in which a certain civic project has met with undivided success.

In the past few weeks, Dixon High School students have been much excited and interested in carrying out a plan whereby the student body will be organized into a civic body comprising a city, operating under the commission form of government. Through the cooperation of the city officials, the elected and appointed officials of the civics classes are allowed to govern the city by proxy for one day, concluding the program by taking the regular seats in the Council Room at the City Hall, and transacting the business of the municipality for one day. The important day which has been set aside is Saturday, May 7.

The purpose of this project is to educate the students in regard to the features and characteristics of municipal government and to give the members of the civics classes practical experience in conducting campaigns and elections.

Only members of the civics classes are eligible for office. However, all students of the high school are qualified voters. The Home Room groups constitute the twenty-three precincts of the Junior City.

The action all began on April 11 when the petitions were filed for candidacy. After much campaigning, the primary election was held on April 22, and to conclude a week of much arousing campaigning, the regular election took place the 24th of April. At this election the following persons succeeded in gaining the much sought for offices: Jack Habecker, mayor; Nelson Lambert, Robert Sterling, Bert Talty and Martin Tayman, commissioners; Orville Dodd, police magistrate.

The entire project was carried on in a most dignified and yet pleasant manner. The whole school has been intensely interested in the election of the officials and will continue their interest to the end. The faculty has cooperated splendidly with the students during this project and without their help, the project could not have been carried out. The townspeople have devoted much of their time to the plan and have shown much interest in the campaign development of the nominees. Miss Scott and Mr. Lindell, who as Civics instructors, should be commended for their very valuable services which they rendered to the student body.

Through the very generous proposal of the Dixon Evening Telegraph, the civics students are to have the privilege, on May 7, of assisting in the publication of that day's edition of the paper. One page will be devoted entirely to school news and activities while the rest of the paper will be edited by the students under the instruction and supervision of the Telegraph staff. This enables those who are interested in journalism to gain experience and knowledge along that line, and it is indeed very fine of the Telegraph to offer an opportunity to those pupils interested in that work.

The student body of the Dixon High School feel that they owe much of the success of this project to the faculty, the town officials, the townspeople, and the Evening Telegraph.

FRANKLIN GROVE

By Grace Pearl

FRANKLIN GROVE—The many friends of Mrs. A. E. Thomas will be glad to learn that she has been dismissed from the Mayo hospital in Rochester, Minn., and if all goes well they will soon be home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leger arrived Friday from the west and expect to visit with his brother, Frank at this place and in Amboy with relatives of his wife. It has been fifteen years since the brothers met and as many years since Mr. Leger was here. They have resided in San Francisco and Reno, Charles is a native of this town, born in the village and grew to young manhood here.

Lee H. Diedorff came Monday from Minneapolis, Minn., to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Diedorff. His wife and children stopped first at Rock Island to visit awhile with her relatives. Eventually they will locate in Colorado, as soon as the office of the company has been arranged.

The Pine View school north of town, with their teacher, Miss Nellie Moser are justly proud of the fact that their school is now a Standard school the only one anywhere in this vicinity. It is an honor for any school that is enabled to arrange their study courses to meet those requirements. The board of directors comprise Chas. Pyle, Jay Miller and O. D. Buck. Miss Moser will teach another year, making her third year.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fess entertained at their home Wednesday evening after the rural school graduation exercises, in honor of their son, Orville, who is a graduate of the Emmert school. The guests present to enjoy the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Emmert and son, Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buck and daughters, Misses Lorena, Belya and Darlene, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Moulton and daughter Julia; Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien and family.

Miss Margaret Breunier was a week end guest of relatives in Chicago. We regret indeed the fact that Mrs. M. D. Winger is being numbered among the sick of the community. We join with a host of other friends in wishing her a speedy recovery.

The Hausen school closed Friday

Governors' Ladies Lend Glamor To White House Dinner

It was "ladies' night" at the White House when President Hoover entertained governors and their wives and daughters. Here's the glamorous picture that the feminine "first ladies" of many states presented as they arrived at the Executive Mansion in Washington. Left to right, above, are Mrs. Lee Boatwright, daughter of Governor John Garli and Pollard of Virginia; Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the Pennsylvania governor; Mary White, daughter of Governor George White of Ohio, with Mrs. Joseph E. Ely, whose husband is Chief Executive of Massachusetts; Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of New York's governor; and Mrs. Doyle E. Carlton, wife of the Florida governor. Inset, below, Mrs. John G. Winant, (left) whose husband is governor of New Hampshire, and Mrs. Henry L. Cabell (right) Richmond, Va., aunt of Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland.

with a picnic. The teacher, Miss Eunice Miller has been engaged to teach another year, making her seventh year in that school. Surely a good recommendation.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Johnston and daughter, Lorraine, of Muscatine, Iowa, visited at the home of his father, G. W. Johnston Sunday.

An attempt to vote out the band tax in Milledgeville met with defeat, the citizens voting 157 to retain the tax and 46 to cancel it. Milledgeville wants a band.

The primary room of the Franklin Grove school will be taught next year by Miss Pauline Trostle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Trostle, she is at present a student in the Mt. Morris College. In the high school, Miss Marie Schmidt of Cornell College at Mt. Vernon, Iowa, will replace Miss Kathryn Jewell. The other teachers will remain for another year.

Frank Hill who has spent the larger part of the winter at the home of his niece, Mrs. W. L. Moore, left Saturday for Texas where he will remain for some time at one of the oil fields.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schaefer and daughter, Miss Catherine and Miss Eleanor Bucklock and Aneta Newman spent Saturday and Sunday in Milwaukee, Wis., with their daughter, Miss Helen Schaefer who is taking a nurse's course in the hospital at that place.

Postmaster and Mrs. George Spangler and daughter, Wanda and Mrs. Annie Roe were Chicago visitors Sunday.

Miss Arlene Bacheler was home from Mt. Morris over the weekend.

Kenneth Gross who is attending the Northwestern University at Evanston was a week-end guest at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gross.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ives and daughter, Arlene motored to Leland Sunday where Mrs. Ives and husband spent the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jewett.

Mr. Jewett and Mr. Ives went to Chicago to the ball game.

Mrs. Sadie Blaine and Mrs. Jay Miller attended the burial services of their cousin, William Schultz at P. Creek Monday morning.

Miss Margaret Banker closed her school Tuesday with a picnic. She has been teaching the Kesselring school.

Willard Krehl who is attending the Cornell College at Mt. Vernon Iowa was a week end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krehl.

Mrs. Wagner who has taught the Dysart school for a number of years closed her work Monday with a picnic for the pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw of Dixon were dinner guests Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. George Killmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Slaubaugh were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Lookingland Sunday. Friends of Mrs. Lookingland will regret to learn that she is not improving as rapidly as they had hoped for from her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hoff of Nachusa were Sunday guests at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Group.

Mr. and Mrs. William Graves and Libby Phillips of Amboy were Sunday evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Graves.

Miss Margaret Gerdes of Chicago is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Patch.

Mrs. Arthur Morris will entertain the Priscilla Club tomorrow afternoon at her lovely country home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hood, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Blocher visited Monday at Geneseo.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Cloy Hall will regret to learn that their little daughter, Margery has been ill with scarlet fever. The mother will be remembered as Miss Mildred Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Meyers, north of town. Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Beckner of Elgin were guests Sunday afternoon at the home of Rev. and Mrs. O. D. Buck.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wiegall spent Sunday and Monday with their daughter and son in Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Schultz left Friday morning for Mason City, Iowa, where they attended the funeral services of his cousin, William Schultz. They returned home by the way of Freeport Sunday and remained over night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fisel. Going to Pine Creek Monday morning to attend the burial services of Mr. Schultz.

Mrs. William Schenk of Chicago spent several days the past week at the home of her brother, Fred Trottnow.

Rev. A. R. Coffman and family of Mt. Morris were Sunday guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. O. D. Buck.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Hewitt Minor was lead to rest in the Franklin Grove cemetery Friday afternoon. Mrs. Minor died at her home in Winnebago, following an illness of several months duration.

Maude Olive McNeal was born near Palsmont, Neb., March 21, 1889, where she grew to womanhood and became graduate nurse in 1915 she went to Winnebago, Ill., to care for Miss Elizabeth Mellon and her two brothers, Clark and Albert. After their deaths she married Hewitt Minor, of Franklin Grove, June 8, 1918. She and her husband have since resided in Winnebago.

On April 20, she became ill and later was taken to St. Anthony's hospital at Rockford, where she submitted to a major operation. She failed to rally and passed away, April 27th. She leaves to mourn: her husband, and a sister in law, Miss Iva Minor, also a host of friends, who will greatly miss her presence in the community. She was a member of the Methodist church and worked hard in its various departments.

Woman's Club Notes

The Woman's Club met May 2, with Mrs. Leland Hanson. Following the brief business session, the program was presented by the department of American Homes of which Mrs. Hanson is chairman.

Roll call was responded by "pictures depicting home life." The subject of the program was "Homes in Other Lands." Mrs. Ruth Hussey read an article describing a farm home in China, written by Pearl S. Buck. Mrs.

Elizabeth Sunday read another on "Home Life in Moscow." Both of these articles suggested most vividly the contrast between the homes in America and those of other lands.

This being "Club Federation Day," which each federated club is expected to observe annually, the 13th District President, Mrs. A. R. Dry of Freeport was present and gave a very helpful talk on "Advantages of Federation." Accompanying her was Mrs. Keck, also of Freeport, who is District Chairman of Child Welfare and Public Health. She told something of child welfare work being done in line with the program of the day, gave some facts from present personal knowledge of the "Home Life in Japan." Her talk was very interesting. Then Mrs. L. N. Deutsch, who has served so efficiently and helpfully as County Club chairman, for the past few years and whose term of office is drawing to a close, expressed most feelingly her appreciation of the cooperation of the Franklin Grove Woman's Club and closed with two of her enjoyable readings, "Friends," by Edgar A. Guest and "Grandma's Patchwork Quilt." Mrs. Deutsch has visited this club several times during her term as county chairman and every member has come to feel a personal friendship for her because of her spirit and fine interest shown in both the club and its individual members. No work, even though she will not be county chairman.

Announcement was again made of the District Convention of the Federated Woman's Clubs to be held in Galena. The meeting closed with a pleasant social period.

Refreshments served by the hostesses and the social committee of the club, and a most delightful and helpful afternoon became a part of club history.

A Snake

A snake about six feet in length is attracting much attention in the window of the Reporter office. H. R. Burnnemeier the Farm Adviser of Davis County sent the snake to Editor Halderman. The snake is of the "pilot rattler" species. He does not look dangerous as a timber rattler. His head is not flat and of course he hasn't any buttons on his tail. From a distance he has not the pits present which are found on the head of real venomous snakes. The snake was found by Otto Berlage, who found him on his farm, which boasts a den of rattlers, where he catches and kills dozens of timber rattlers each year.

Kilo Club

The last regular meeting of the Kilo Club for the year was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. L. Lott. Election of officers was the main business feature, which resulted as follows:

President—Miss Carrie Anderson.

Vice President—Mrs. Grace A. Stultz.

Sec. and Treas.—Mrs. Mattie A. Meredith.

Club Reporter—Mrs. Mary Miller.

Program committee—Mrs. Leland Hanson, Mrs. Alice Lott, and Mrs. Ada Peterman.

Dixon Stands In Sterling's Path

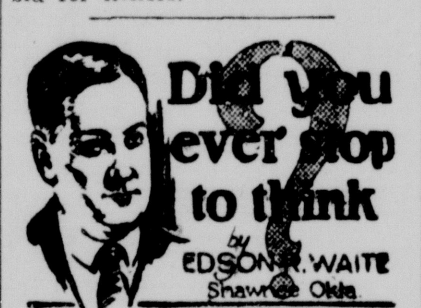

By DAVID TALTY

When the trackmen of the North Central Conference go to their marks today a number of records will be in danger of being smashed. The results of meets held so far this year in which Conference teams have figured, show a number of track marks that are being consistently bettered, while the weight men, faced by the keenest competition in years, will have to topple a number of old marks to stay in the running. In the relay, the mark set by DeKalb at last year's meet is almost certain to be toppled by the Dixon quartette who have bettered it in several duels without being pushed.

Sterling defending champs will be hard pressed to repeat. However a strong squad—with Praetz, shot putter; Weaver, dashman; and Rutt, pole vaulter—making a bid to repeat last year's performances, should put them well up in the days scoring. Just what new talent has been developed remains to be seen, and this question will probably involve their chances to take the cup.

The Dixon entries will be the only obstacle in Sterling's path. The Purple trackmen who have defeated Polo, Rock Falls, and Mendota by top-heavy scores, have a strong, well-balanced squad. Strong and Ogan should repeat last year's victories, and a strong troupe of distance men should place Dixon in a commanding place in the day's scoring.

Mendota, the newcomer to the Conference, provided the unknown equation; however their overwhelming defeat at the hands of the local speedsters, disposes of their chances. DeKalb has been hard hit by graduation and has little strength in any event excepting the mile, where Roach is doped to better his record set at last year's meet. Rochelle and Belvidere have shown little improvement and do not possess the all-round strength to make a strong bid for honors.

JAMES F. TAGGART, EDITOR OF THE BRAWLEY (CALIFORNIA) NEWS, SAYS:

"No one ever buys anything unless their attention is called to it."

"Advertising, in Latin, literally means turning to something. Some of this turning is automatic, almost a subconscious muscular urge. That comes from long habit, like going to the corner grocery or filling up the family car with gas.

"Things kept at the grocery store don't have to be advertised unless you want the best and at the same price, or thereabouts as you pay for the poorer grades. To get the best in groceries therefore, watch for the advertised brands. Or anything else you buy to add to human comfort or happiness.

"The advertised brands of anything—food, clothing, shelter, housing, etc., are challenging the reader of the advertisement to make them good, according to their proclamation, actual or implied, in the advertisement, and which says, 'Buy us, and, by buying, make us make good on our claims.'"

"That challenge is a safe one; the man or manufacturer behind the advertisement knows, from his sales totals, that he always has made good and always will make good."

If only he keeps his product up to the standard pledged by him in his advertisement."

Katherine Cover; Mrs. Vera Gross and Mrs. Blanche Wasson.

NEW ANEMIA FINDING

Cincinnati—Members of the research staff of the University of Cincinnati's College of Medicine have thrown new light on the cause of pernicious anemia and forecast a new anemia cure as a result. Experiments have shown that when a concentrated solution of normal human gastric juice is given by intramuscular injection to anemic patients, almost immediate improvement is seen.

In public wealth among nations America ranks tenth.

WINS, BUT LOSES

Los Angeles—Lucky at cards and unlucky in love—that old saw held true in the case of Almeda Obringer, who was awarded a divorce here from her husband, Roy Obringer. She said her life was unbearable because she always beat her husband when they played bridge, and, as a result, he abused her. On two occasions he kicked her on the shins, she said, although it was not mentioned whether or not it was under a bridge table.
